Defense Program To Create Six Billion Deficit

Twelve Billion Will Be Spent In Current Year

Morgenthau Warns Need For New Taxes If Congress Would Avoid Deficit

INDUSTRY HESITANT TO ACCEPT ORDERS

Contractors Uncertain As To The Conditions Which Will Be Imposed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau told congress today that America's great defense program would create a record peacetime financial deficit of $5,700,000,000 at the end of the current fiscal year unless new taxes are immediately enacted to increase revenue. The fiscal year ends June 30.

He made this statement before the house ways and means committee as he appealed for swift action in the passage of an excess profits tax schedule to offset the fast mounting program of defense spending.

Twelve Billion

At the same time Morgenthau said that actual spending during the current year would exceed $12,000,000,000 for all purposes.

He added that in spite of projected new taxes and increased revenue, the present debt limitation of $49,000,000,000 "will sooner or later need to be increased."

In the same statement the secretary for the first time placed the government publicly on record as recognizing that industry was hesi-

Martin Gantz "Kids" Relive School Days

Cares and troubles of the day were all put aside and good "fellowship," and the spirit of friendliness reigned supreme, Thursday afternoon and evening, when the "Martin Gantzers," and their teachers gathered at the First Christian church on the Diamond, to talk of old times and to revive happy memories of the "dear old schooldays."

Early in the afternoon, the former pupils gathered on the lawn of the church for a few delightful hours reminiscing with their friends, and at 6:30 o'clock dinner announced by the ringing of the schoolbell by Charles Rohrer, who performed this act in the absence of Wyatt Campbell. Democrats To Sell Book For 25 Cents—Will Get All The Advertising They Can

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — The Democratic party shortly will present its argument for re-election of President Roosevelt to the nation in a "campaign book" to be sold for 25 cents and carrying all the paid advertising leaders can solicit. It will replace the famed $100-per-copy "Handbook" of other years by which thousands of dollars were raised.

No Violation

This was announced by the Democratic party's new national chairman, Bronx Leader Edward J. Flynn, in a press conference today held jointly with Democratic Publicity Director Charles Michaelson.

Flynn said he did not believe provisions of the Hatch clean politics act would interfere with the sale of the Democratic campaign document.

"The campaign book is just a campaign book—what we call it," said Flynn. "It costs just 25 cents and will soon be sent out for distribution. It is the only one that will be sold, and the Democratic national committee will be in charge of its sale."

Reporters immediately asked about recent comment of Attorney General Robert H. Jackson on observing the "spirit of the Hatch act."

Wendell Willkie Works On Speech

Acceptance Address Not To Exceed 45 Minutes—Will Hit Democratic Machines

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 9—With eight days to go before his acceptance speech at Elwood, Indiana, Wendell Willkie pared away at a semi-complete draft today determined to hold it down to three-quarters of an hour or less.

Willkie doesn't believe the speech ever was written that would hold anyone's attention longer than that and his extemporaneous speeches are seldom more than five minutes but he crowds a lot into that much time.

Trims It Down

Trimming of the first draft made a week ago has been made necessary by new developments which have arisen. Since his stand on conscription has been asked he wants to get in something about that and it now appears that he will put in a paragraph or two about Democratic political machines, the Hatch act and a couple of other subjects to which no reference was made in the original draft.

Originally, Willkie intended to devote a solid week to working on his acceptance speech. He has been in Colorado Springs exactly one month today but a month crowded with visitors, trips to Denver, Salt Lake City, Ogden, Cheyenne, Central City

A saddle horse show and a Boy Scout pageant—both brand new fair features—will headline this afternoon's program at the New Castle fair. The four-day exhibition closes late tonight.

The parade of show horses at 1 was to substitute for the usual harness races. The scout pageant, with 1,000 performers, is scheduled for about 4:30.

While today and tonight will wind up the annual show, the fair management looked forward to another large attendance today. Thursday's visitors formed the largest crowd to move into the grounds since it opened Tuesday noon.

Tonight's top offering will be the Klein Revue, the stellar evening's attraction which has been winning applause from good-sized audiences. This afternoon at the grandstand, the lovelies in the cast are scheduled to make a day appearance, but their main performance—their last—will come tonight at 8:15.

Yesterday afternoon's crowd saw excellent horse and pony races and entertainment itself at the exhibitions and carnival on the mid-way.

The Red Cross "first aid hospital" on the grounds has reported only minor accidents, and but a very few of them. State motor police have been on the grounds each day.

Announcement of winners in the stock judging was made by the fair office this morning. These lists included exhibitors sharing honors for outstanding horses, cattle, swine and sheep.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 9—In line with his decision to educate the American public to the need for immediate and total preparedness, President Roosevelt will leave here late today for a whirlwind trip through four New England States designed to dramatize the naval defense situation.

Before leaving his Hyde Park home the president had informally opened his third term campaign by bidding for the support of the women of New York's five mid-Hudson counties and predicting he would be re-elected.

The chief executive also had conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, his running mate and presumably reached important decisions concerning campaign issues.

No Speeches

The three day tour of Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, Mass., Newport, R. I., and New London, Conn., will be devoid of speeches. Mr. Roosevelt further will make the jumps between these four important northeastern naval bases by boat, thus avoiding huge crowds that lined highways and city streets for miles when he swung through New England in 1936.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Pennsylvania's crack cavalry regiment, the 22nd division of the national guard, today was under orders to launch the first major maneuvers of Uncle Sam's war games in this area at dawn.

Under command of Maj. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., of Harrisburg, the 22nd was assigned with the 27th and 44th divisions of the second corps to repel an invading "black army" which has penetrated deep into this "blue" or defense army territory.

Establish Contact

The 22nd was given the job of establishing first contact with the "enemy", and the task of beginning a sweeping series of counter-attacks designed to retake captured bridges on the Grass river and to recapture Kimball hill. The entire second corps then is expected to hold the invaders at bay until arrival of the infantry.

Continuing day and night, the "battle" will rage until Saturday when General Stackpole's division will be given the problem of withdrawing behind the infantry lines to guard against an enveloping movement by the enemy on the right flank.

New Rumanian Anti-Semitic Laws Clamp Strict Prohibitions On Jews

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Aug. 9—King Carol of Rumania aligned his nation still closer to the Rome-Berlin axis today by proclaiming a series of anti-semitic laws sharply restricting the privileges of Jews.

One of the new regulations prohibits marriages between Jews and gentiles. Another bans Jews from public offices and from positions as lawyers, publishers or real estate owners.

Expropriation of property owned by Jews is threatened unless it is sold to Rumanians.

In addition the regulations provide for a special tax upon Jews or for compulsory labor service in order to compensate for exemption from military service. Separate schools for Jewish children likewise are approved.

Jewish front fighters and descendants of Rumania's Jewish war dead are exempt from the new law.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The odds are 100 to 1 against the National Guard ever being sent outside the continental limits of territorial possessions by the United States, President Roosevelt declared today.

The chief executive made this observation in commenting on the narrow margin by which the Senate yesterday defeated an amendment to the guard mobilization bill which would have restricted guard movements within those limits.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—By a vote of 71 to 7 the United States Senate late Thursday passed and sent to the House, legislation permitting the president to call approximately 400,000 National Guardsmen and army reserves for service in the western hemisphere and a year's training in mechanized warfare.

Two amendments ease hardships which may arise. One permits men with dependent wife or child or both to resign from the service within twenty days after the enactment of the bill. The other confers war time benefits on the guard and reserves called into federal service by guaranteeing them a moratorium on private debts during training and making rent adjustments.

Troop K A Part Of 22nd Cavalry Division Ordered To Launch Drive

(International News Service)

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Pennsylvania's crack cavalry regiment, the 22nd division of the national guard, today was under orders to launch the first major maneuvers of Uncle Sam's war games in this area at dawn.

Under command of Maj. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., of Harrisburg, the 22nd was assigned with the 27th and 44th divisions of the second corps to repel an invading "black army" which has penetrated deep into this "blue" or defense army territory.

Establish Contact

The 22nd was given the job of establishing first contact with the "enemy", and the task of beginning a sweeping series of counter-attacks designed to retake captured bridges on the Grass river and to recapture Kimball hill. The entire second corps then is expected to hold the invaders at bay until arrival of the infantry.

Continuing day and night, the "battle" will rage until Saturday when General Stackpole's division will be given the problem of withdrawing behind the infantry lines to guard against an enveloping movement by the enemy on the right flank.

New Rumanian Anti-Semitic Laws Clamp Strict Prohibitions On Jews

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Aug. 9—King Carol of Rumania aligned his nation still closer to the Rome-Berlin axis today by proclaiming a series of anti-semitic laws sharply restricting the privileges of Jews.

One of the new regulations prohibits marriages between Jews and gentiles. Another bans Jews from public offices and from positions as lawyers, publishers or real estate owners.

Expropriation of property owned by Jews is threatened unless it is sold to Rumanians.

In addition the regulations provide for a special tax upon Jews or for compulsory labor service in order to compensate for exemption from military service. Separate schools for Jewish children likewise are approved.

Jewish front fighters and descendants of Rumania's Jewish war dead are exempt from the new law.

Germans Refute British Claims

Insist Only 10 Nazi Planes Were Lost In Battle Over English Channel

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 9—German bombing raids on Liverpool, Bristol and many ports and air basis along the south coast of England were announced by the Nazi high command today.

A check-up shows, the high command declared, that 49 British planes were shot down in the gigantic air battle over the English channel yesterday. German military authorities denied Britain's claim that 53 Nazi craft were lost in the combat. The German losses were placed at 10.

(Editor's note: Today's German communique embraced the first news on air attack on Liverpool, heart of England's industrial area.)

The communique said:

Bill Permits President To Call Men For Service In Western Hemisphere

Married Men May Resign—Debt Moratorium Guaranteed—Rent Adjustments Provided

By International News Service

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The odds are 100 to 1 against the National Guard ever being sent outside the continental limits of territorial possessions by the United States, President Roosevelt declared today.

The chief executive made this observation in commenting on the narrow margin by which the Senate yesterday defeated an amendment to the guard mobilization bill which would have restricted guard movements within those limits.

By ROBERT A. McGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—By a vote of 71 to 7 the United States Senate late Thursday passed and sent to the House, legislation permitting the president to call approximately 400,000 National Guardsmen and army reserves for service in the western hemisphere and a year's training in mechanized warfare.

Two amendments ease hardships which may arise. One permits men with dependent wife or child or both to resign from the service within twenty days after the enactment of the bill. The other confers war time benefits on the guard and reserves called into federal service by guaranteeing them a moratorium on private debts during training and making rent adjustments.

THOUSANDS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON BRITAIN

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—British authorities have now established that 60 German planes were damaged in yesterday's massive air battle over the English Channel, an official statement said today.

Three of the 16 missing British pilots returned, the statement added. Two of them were injured.

Three Hour Fire

A mysterious three-hour fire, raging in the London dock area, destroyed a huge storehouse today as German air raiders resumed their attacks on the British Isles.

Cause of the blaze was not revealed, but its outbreak put all air defenses in the region of London on the alert.

Searchlights swept the skies and fighter planes droned overhead to ward off any massed Nazi bombing attack on London.

During the morning a German bomber was shot down by anti-aircraft fire off the northeast coast after bombing a coastal town.

In addition to German attacks on the Straits of Dover, the Bristol Channel, northwestern England and a midland town, southwestern England also was bombed during the night.

The ministry of home security announced that the raids in the southwest caused a number of casualties—one fatal—and some property damage.

Total War

The British and German air forces carried out savage raids of nearly "total air war" proportions following yesterday's gigantic battle in which 33 German planes were said to have been shot down and many more were reported destroyed.

During the night and this morning raiders winged through curtains of heavy anti-aircraft fire over various British areas, while British bombers were reported striking deep into Reich territory, causing nine German radio stations to halt operations.

The latest aerial forays provided steady action for the British defense forces in the wake of yesterday's engagement, which raged for 14 hours. German night raids on English districts caused a number of casualties, some of them fatal.

Late this morning Nazi raiders were reported over southeastern England, possibly heralding another day of devastating air combat like yesterday's engagement, which started when some 350 German bombers and fighters suddenly hurled 2,000 bombs at a large British ship convoy in the English Channel.

This morning the London Daily Express estimated that no less than 800 German planes—300 dive-bombers and 500 fighters—participated in the attacks on convoyed ships and ensuing sky duels.

ABOUT 400,000 GUARD-RESERVE TO BE AFFECTED

Senate are lining up for the struggle with "flying squadrons" of vote getters going into action.

Sens. Wheeler (D) Mont., who led the successful fight against the president's supreme court enlargement program, and Norris (I-R) Neb., who has supported major new deal legislation, will head the opposition forces. Sens. Barkley (D) Ky., the majority leader, and Byrnes (D) S. C., will handle the fight for the administration.

The issue is clear. Those favoring the legislation agree with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, Secretary of War Stimson, and the president as well, that voluntary enlistment will not give the nation sufficient men in the short time allotted to build up a highly trained army.

Change Hitlerism

The opponents contend that voluntary enlistments will furnish enough men to keep abreast of the defense construction and army expansion program, that the administration has not made sufficient effort to increase voluntary enlistments, and that conscription is a "Hitlerized method" of regimentation.

The debate is estimated to last from two to four weeks. Administration leaders predict the bill will pass with not more than 20 opposing votes. The opponents, however, say they have "more than a fighting chance" to win.

The original conscription program was greatly curtailed by the senate military affairs committee. As introduced, it would have required the registration of all men between 18 and 65 for selective military and home defense training. Men between 21 to 45 would have been liable for a year's military training; those in the other age brackets for home defense training.

Although the bill sponsored by Sen. Burke (D) Neb., and Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y. has been drastically cut to only require the registration of men between 21 and 31 for selective military training, it faces additional curtailment by the senate.

The war department estimates there are approximately 12,000,000 men between 21 and 31 but it plans to induct into military service only 400,000 this fall, and an additional 400,000 next April.

But Alas! If we talk as tough now as we'll seem two years from now, we may not get a chance to become that tough.

Morgenthau bluntly told the legislators:

". . . There has arisen in the minds of contractors who desire to do business with the government, a barrier of uncertinty as to the conditions under which they will operate. In some cases, on this account, contractors have been hesitant to accept government contracts. To remove this hesitancy it has been my opinion that immediate steps should be taken to obtain adequate demedial legislation.

Speed Needed

He said it was essential that minor differences in the pending excess profits bill be quickly settled to provide "early passage of this urgently needed legislation."

The secretary advised that appropriations and contract authorizations for defense already made by, and pending before, the present congress totalled $14,702,000,000 as of August 5.

The budget bureau and the treasury now estimate receipts for the current year—based on existing law but without consideration of the expected excess profits tax law—would total $6,367,000,000. He said that the recently expanded public debt limit of $49,000,000,000 will have been virtually exhausted by next June 30 and that in addition the huge defense program contemplated will probably drain the treasury's working balance to about $1,275,000,000 as of that date.

"Our mosquito boats returned safely.

"On August 8 Stuka squadrons protected by fighter and naval units bombed a strongly protected convoy south of the Isle of Wight banks. As already announced 12 merchantmen totalling 55,000 tons were sunk and seven severely damaged.

"The total number of ships sunk or damaged by our air force yesterday was 28.

"Our Messerschmidts destroyed 12 barrage balloons near over.

"During air battles resulting from the convoy attacks, a total of 49 enemy planes were shot down off the Isle of Wight and Dover including 33 Spitfires. Ten German planes were lost while two made emergency landings.

Attack Plants

"During the night, our bombers attacked British aircraft plants at Liverpool and Bristol, as well as ports, air bases and anti-aircraft positions in South England.

"Mine-laying by our airplanes continued on schedule.

"Enemy planes flying in various parts of western Germany were forced by anti-aircraft fire to turn away or were prevented from releasing their combs. Some individual bombs caused insignificant damage to buildings and fields. A few persons were wounded in a small hamlet in border territory. Two R. A. F. planes were brought down by anti-aircraft fire."

With regard to British claims of 53 Nazi losses in yesterday's air battle, a spokesman said:

"The R. A. F. has always attempted to smoke screen hard blows dealt to it by claiming big air victories Anyone checking the record in Norway, Belgium and France since the war began knows whose claims are most reliable."

Mr. Jackson had commented on the Hatch act," Michaelson interrupted. "That's Mr. Jackson's worry."

Declaring prospects for re-election of President Roosevelt were "wonderful" the Democrats' incoming national chairman predicted Mr. Roosevelt would carry New York State "without question."

To Call Leaders

Flynn said his prediction was based on conferences with New York Democratic leaders within the past few days, added that he was convinced the Democrats would do "as well as we ever have" in upstate New York, and refused to discuss other states specifically.

He said he intended shortly to call Democratic leaders from every state into New York City for a series of individual discussions to "get the national picture in detail."

Flynn, who will take over his duties as Democratic national chairman on August 17, succeeding James A. Farley, said the former New Deal political generalissimo had promised him the benefit of his advice whenever needed. Asked specifically whether Farley would take an "active part" in the Roosevelt campaign, Flynn smiled and said that it was up to Farley to decide.

ually no open campaign this year and his assertion that a series of national defense tours he has in mind will be non-political.

There was plenty of politics in evidence around Hyde Park yesterday, however during secretary Wallace's visit. The two men, in addition to conferring on campaign problems, made a joint appearance at a political rally and tea staged by Mrs. Roosevelt for 800 Democratic women of New York state. Shirtsleeved and grinning as the women closed in on them, they said the Democratic ticket was counting on the support of the Hudson river counties this fall. Mr. Roosevelt predicted that he and Wallace would have "the next four years" in which to continue an argument over the relative merits of corn as grown in New York and Iowa.

Wallace left Hyde Park shortly after dinner last night by motor for New York and expected to be back in Washington today. He declined to be interviewed by reporters on his conference with the president.

Special Train

Mr. Roosevelt is leaving by special train this evening for Portsmouth, N. H., where tomorrow morning, he will inspect the Navy yard there.

At Portsmouth, the presidential party will be joined by Senate Naval Affairs Chairman David I. Walsh (D) Mass., during the course of the Saturday to Monday tour. Mr. Roosevelt will be enabled to argue with Walsh over the latter's opposition to the compulsory military training bill.

The president leaves the New Hampshire base by boat for Boston, where on Saturday afternoon, he will inspect the Navy yard and also motor out to Watertown, Mass., to look over the army arsenal.

Again boarding a navy craft he and his party will cruise until Monday morning when they put into Newport, R. I. to see the naval training station, war college, torpedo station and air base site.

Final stop on Monday afternoon, will be New London, Conn., site of the submerine base. At that point he will entrain for Washington, arriving there Tuesday forenoon.

Accompanying Mr. Roosevelt on this trip will be Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins, who reached Hyde Park almost simultaneously with Wallace yesterday, but whose presence was said by white house officials to have no political significance.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and the president's military and naval aides also will be in attendance.

Air 'Blitzkrieg' Costly To Nazis

British Fliers Claim Direct Hits On Nine German Radio Stations

THOUSANDS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON BRITAIN

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—British authorities have now established that 60 German planes were damaged in yesterday's massive air battle over the English Channel, an official statement said today.

Three of the 16 missing British pilots returned, the statement added. Two of them were injured.

Three Hour Fire

A mysterious three-hour fire, raging in the London dock area, destroyed a huge storehouse today as German air raiders resumed their attacks on the British Isles.

Cause of the blaze was not revealed, but its outbreak put all air defenses in the region of London on the alert.

Searchlights swept the skies and fighter planes droned overhead to ward off any massed Nazi bombing attack on London.

During the morning a German bomber was shot down by anti-aircraft fire off the northeast coast after bombing a coastal town.

In addition to German attacks on the Straits of Dover, the Bristol Channel, northwestern England and a midland town, southwestern England also was bombed during the night.

The ministry of home security announced that the raids in the southwest caused a number of casualties—one fatal—and some property damage.

Total War

The British and German air forces carried out savage raids of nearly "total air war" proportions following yesterday's gigantic battle in which 33 German planes were said to have been shot down and many more were reported destroyed.

During the night and this morning raiders winged through curtains of heavy anti-aircraft fire over various British areas, while British bombers were reported striking deep into Reich territory, causing nine German radio stations to halt operations.

The latest aerial forays provided steady action for the British defense forces in the wake of yesterday's engagement, which raged for 14 hours. German night raids on English districts caused a number of casualties, some of them fatal.

Late this morning Nazi raiders were reported over southeastern England, possibly heralding another day of devastating air combat like yesterday's engagement, which started when some 350 German bombers and fighters suddenly hurled 2,000 bombs at a large British ship convoy in the English Channel.

This morning the London Daily Express estimated that no less than 800 German planes—300 dive-bombers and 500 fighters—participated in the attacks on convoyed ships and ensuing sky duels.

ABOUT 400,000 GUARD-RESERVE TO BE AFFECTED

Senate are lining up for the struggle with "flying squadrons" of vote getters going into action.

Sens. Wheeler (D) Mont., who led the successful fight against the president's supreme court enlargement program, and Norris (I-R) Neb., who has supported major new deal legislation, will head the opposition forces. Sens. Barkley (D) Ky., the majority leader, and Byrnes (D) S. C., will handle the fight for the administration.

The issue is clear. Those favoring the legislation agree with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, Secretary of War Stimson, and the president as well, that voluntary enlistment will not give the nation sufficient men in the short time allotted to build up a highly trained army.

Change Hitlerism

The opponents contend that voluntary enlistments will furnish enough men to keep abreast of the defense construction and army expansion program, that the administration has not made sufficient effort to increase voluntary enlistments, and that conscription is a "Hitlerized method" of regimentation.

The debate is estimated to last from two to four weeks. Administration leaders predict the bill will pass with not more than 20 opposing votes. The opponents, however, say they have "more than a fighting chance" to win.

The original conscription program was greatly curtailed by the senate military affairs committee. As introduced, it would have required the registration of all men between 18 and 65 for selective military and home defense training. Men between 21 to 45 would have been liable for a year's military training; those in the other age brackets for home defense training.

Although the bill sponsored by Sen. Burke (D) Neb., and Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y. has been drastically cut to only require the registration of men between 21 and 31 for selective military training, it faces additional curtailment by the senate.

The war department estimates there are approximately 12,000,000 men between 21 and 31 but it plans to induct into military service only 400,000 this fall, and an additional 400,000 next April.

But Alas! if we talk as tough now as we'll seem two years from now, we may not get a chance to become that tough.

which can be looked at right at home, Lawrence and Beaver county farmers, when they take their annual tour next Tuesday, will visit farms right in Lawrence county. That's what Pa Newc calls real community spirit.

In a popular road-side inn, on the outskirts of the city, this Pa Newc struck up a conversation with some California tourists, who were enroute to the New York World's Fair. They related that throughout their course across the country, they were finding that during the little time they had been in our own state, the scenic beauty impressed them most.

The Greeks must have had a word for it and understood the whole set-up perfectly, as their informal dress and comfortable togas certainly were a change from the many skirted dresses and large hats, with whole birds on the top, of former years, which women wore for traveling. Now, they don a set of slacks and tie a bandana handkerchief around their hair and are in perfect and correct attire for their trips. Comfort is the keynote of civilization.

New innovations are always popping up and to top off a birthday party held in honor of Myron Frank of Richelieu avenue Thursday evening at Cascade Park, two candles from the cake were taken to the top of a telephone pole in the midway, and lighted in a salute to the honored one.

tant to accept huge government contracts because of "uncertinty as to the conditions under which they will operate."

Morgenthau bluntly told the legislators:

". . . There has arisen in the minds of contractors who desire to do business with the government, a barrier of uncertinty as to the conditions under which they will operate. In some cases, on this account, contractors have been hesitant to accept government contracts. To remove this hesitancy it has been my opinion that immediate steps should be taken to obtain adequate demedial legislation.

Speed Needed

He said it was essential that minor differences in the pending excess profits bill be quickly settled to provide "early passage of this urgently needed legislation."

The secretary advised that appropriations and contract authorizations for defense already made by, and pending before, the present congress totalled $14,702,000,000 as of August 5.

The budget bureau and the treasury now estimate receipts for the current year—based on existing law but without consideration of the expected excess profits tax law—would total $6,367,000,000. He said that the recently expanded public debt limit of $49,000,000,000 will have been virtually exhausted by next June 30 and that in addition the huge defense program contemplated will probably drain the treasury's working balance to about $1,275,000,000 as of that date.

GERMANS REFUTE BRITISH CLAIMS

succeeded in sinking an 8,000 ton tanker and two merchant ships of 5,000 tons each, while a smaller tanker was set afire.

"Our mosquito boats returned safely.

"On August 8 Stuka squadrons protected by fighter and naval units bombed a strongly protected convoy south of the Isle of Wight banks. As already announced 12 merchantmen totalling 55,000 tons were sunk and seven severely damaged.

"The total number of ships sunk or damaged by our air force yesterday was 28.

"Our Messerschmidts destroyed 12 barrage balloons near over.

"During air battles resulting from the convoy attacks, a total of 49 enemy planes were shot down off the Isle of Wight and Dover including 33 Spitfires. Ten German planes were lost while two made emergency landings.

Attack Plants

"During the night, our bombers attacked British aircraft plants at Liverpool and Bristol, as well as ports, air bases and anti-aircraft positions in South England.

"Mine-laying by our airplanes continued on schedule.

"Enemy planes flying in various parts of western Germany were forced by anti-aircraft fire to turn away or were prevented from releasing their combs. Some individual bombs caused insignificant damage to buildings and fields. A few persons were wounded in a small hamlet in border territory. Two R. A. F. planes were brought down by anti-aircraft fire."

With regard to British claims of 53 Nazi losses in yesterday's air battle, a spokesman said:

"The R. A. F. has always attempted to smoke screen hard blows dealt to it by claiming big air victories Anyone checking the record in Norway, Belgium and France since the war began knows whose claims are most reliable."

Aerial Warfare

At the same time Pennsylvania's citizen-soldiers got their first taste of aerial warfare at nearby Watertown under the watchful eyes of Maj. Gen. Edward Martin. A squad of 12 planes engaged in target practice under Lieut. Col. John V. Dallin, head of a group from Philadelphia's new municipal airport.

Over the waters of Lake Ontario near Stony Point, the war birds riddled targets on the lake and sleeve targets in the air. Although scores were not registered, observers said the pilots peppered the targets at will with 30-calibre machine guns.

Mr. Jackson had commented on the Hatch act," Michaelson interrupted. "That's Mr. Jackson's worry."

Declaring prospects for re-election of President Roosevelt were "wonderful" the Democrats' incoming national chairman predicted Mr. Roosevelt would carry New York State "without question."

To Call Leaders

Flynn said his prediction was based on conferences with New York Democratic leaders within the past few days, added that he was convinced the Democrats would do "as well as we ever have" in upstate New York, and refused to discuss other states specifically.

He said he intended shortly to call Democratic leaders from every state into New York City for a series of individual discussions to "get the national picture in detail."

Flynn, who will take over his duties as Democratic national chairman on August 17, succeeding James A. Farley, said the former New Deal political generalissimo had promised him the benefit of his advice whenever needed. Asked specifically whether Farley would take an "active part" in the Roosevelt campaign, Flynn smiled and said that it was up to Farley to decide.

PRESIDENT LEAVES ON INSPECTION TOUR

ually no open campaign this year and his assertion that a series of national defense tours he has in mind will be non-political.

There was plenty of politics in evidence around Hyde Park yesterday, however during secretary Wallace's visit. The two men, in addition to conferring on campaign problems, made a joint appearance at a political rally and tea staged by Mrs. Roosevelt for 800 Democratic women of New York state. Shirtsleeved and grinning as the women closed in on them, they said the Democratic ticket was counting on the support of the Hudson river counties this fall. Mr. Roosevelt predicted that he and Wallace would have "the next four years" in which to continue an argument over the relative merits of corn as grown in New York and Iowa.

Wallace left Hyde Park shortly after dinner last night by motor for New York and expected to be back in Washington today. He declined to be interviewed by reporters on his conference with the president.

Special Train

Mr. Roosevelt is leaving by special train this evening for Portsmouth, N. H., where tomorrow morning, he will inspect the Navy yard there.

At Portsmouth, the presidential party will be joined by Senate Naval Affairs Chairman David I. Walsh (D) Mass., during the course of the Saturday to Monday tour, Mr. Roosevelt will be enabled to argue with Walsh over the latter's opposition to the compulsory military training bill.

The president leaves the New Hampshire base by boat for Boston, where on Saturday afternoon, he will inspect the Navy yard and also motor out to Watertown, Mass., to look over the army arsenal.

Again boarding a navy craft he and his party will cruise until Monday morning when they put into Newport, R. I. to see the naval training station, war college, torpedo station and air base site.

Final stop on Monday afternoon, will be New London, Conn., site of the submerine base. At that point he will entrain for Washington, arriving there Tuesday forenoon.

Accompanying Mr. Roosevelt on this trip will be Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins, who reached Hyde Park almost simultaneously with Wallace yesterday, but whose presence was said by white house officials to have no political significance.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and the president's military and naval aides also will be in attendance.

HARMON-GROCE CEREMONY QUIET

Quiet and impressive was the ceremony performed Thursday morning, in Robinson's Chapel, Parkers Landing, uniting in marriage, Helen Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon of Hillsville and Lynnford Groce, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Groce of Hillsville.

Vows were exchanged at 11 o'clock, with the Rev. E. O. Minnigh, a former pastor of the Hillsville Methodist church, officiating and using the single ring service.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a white silk marquisette gown, made with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, and with tiny bows of ribbon dotting the skirt. Her fingertip veil of tulle was caught with an accordion pleated halo and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, miniature asters and stephanis, showered with white ribbon.

Miss Dorothy Pepe, as maid of honor, wore a pink marquisette gown, patterned similar to that of the bride's. She wore an identical accordion pleated halo and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and pink and orchid miniature asters. Walter Harmon, brother of the bride served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate families at the home of the bride's, in Hillsville.

A WISE WILLKIE

If a Washington rumor is right Wendell Willkie has just demonstrated that he is wise in his day and generation by shying away from what evidently appeared to him as a "spider and the fly" offer from the White House.

This rumor has it that the President would like to get some "aged" destroyers belonging to this country over to Britain, but before proposing to sell them Mr. Roosevelt would prefer to have Willkie's approval. That is to say, assurance that Willkie would not make an issue of it in the campaign. According to this rumor, the President got Archibald MacLeish, Librarian of Congress—who has no business monkeying with politics, by the way—to approach a newspaper man, Davenport, attached to Willkie's staff, who in turn was expected to bring Willkie to see the light.

Whatever the approach and however wily, obviously it found Willkie watching his step. For the story has it that he sent word back to the White House that the responsibility was that of the President and not his, in case a recommendation of the kind was to be made to Congress.

Roosevelt turned Hoover down cold in the interim following the 1932 election when the latter hollered for help. Should Willkie be elected he will not be disposed to counsel Roosevelt during next November and December. And apparently during the campaign he will have no conferences with Roosevelt of the kind Landon held with him in Iowa in 1936 and which did Landon's candidacy no good.

ONE WOMAN'S ALERTNESS

Old Demosthenes voiced the idea first in an attack upon the menace to Greece of Philip of Macedon, and thence through the ages has developed a conviction that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

That conviction has just found a new exemplar in a Verona, N. J., housewife, Mrs. S. B. Cruden. She could scarcely believe her eyes in reading in the national defense act of last June that Congress had bestowed on the Secretary of the Navy, with the President's approval, the right in peacetime to take over private manufacturing plants in the interest of defense and to fix compensation therefor.

Did Congress know what it had done? She sat down and wrote to Representative Kean of the Twelfth New Jersey District to find out, and thereby started something.

This power to take over private industry had been in the bill at the beginning, but had been stricken out by both House and Senate. Then in conference it had been slipped in again without authority by some friend of the administration. All unwittingly, without access to printed copies of the conference report, both House and Senate passed the compromise bill and the President signed it. The House has just voted repeal of the "joker." Senator Barbour will engineer the plan for its repeal in the Senate.

This episode is a refreshing instance of democracy at work in a dictator-ridden world. Only a free press could have conveyed to Mrs. Cruden the knowledge of what her government was about. And only where freedom of speech is guaranteed would an individual voter dare to question it.

GETTING THE TRUTH

One of the most important necessities of the national defense program is that the public be kept accurately informed as to its progress. It is hard for the layman to visualize the difficulties of turning manufacturing plants over from peace-time to war-time production. It is hard for him to understand that release of billions for planes, tanks and guns does not mean that within a few months this equipment will become available.

Mr. Knudsen of the National Defense Advisory Commission contributed notably to public enlightenment in his statement of July 27. He made it clear that plane production is far below what it will have to be and that present capacity for some war-time necessities is practically non-existent. The nation's August production of planes, not including pleasure craft, will be 895. It will not reach the rate of 2,000 plus per month until July 1, 1942, said Mr. Knudsen.

Now comes another informed expert, William P. Kirk, vice-president of Pratt, Whitney, to estimate that the manufacturing phase of the national defense program will take between a year and a half and two years to get into motion. Mr. Kirk deplored the "misapprehension" that the automobile industry can start turning out armored trucks, tanks, airplane engines and other war products as soon as a contract is let.

Again, a news dispatch from Washington tells of a War Department plan to divide the territory between the Allegheny and Rocky Mountains into five areas for munitions manufacture. A chain of plants will be constructed. But, says the dispatch, "Actual plans for building are still in a formative stage."

Truths about production capacity, however unpalatable, must be driven home. If the difficulties are visualized adequately, there will be less ill-founded self-assurance.

In America many people live underground these hot days, but it isn't fear of bombing planes that puts them there.

Dinner Stories

QUICK THINKING

It was on the street car and one of the passengers was acting strangely.

"That man thinks he is George Washington. Can't you do something?"

A woman passenger came to the motorman and whispered:

"Sure, I can" said the boss of the car. Then raising his voice he called. "Next stop Mount Vernon."

And the man got off!

ONCE MORE

Mike had eaten a heavy meal and called the manager over.

"Mr. Manager," he said, "a year ago I had dinner here and when I didn't have enough cash to pay for it you threw me out. Do you remember that?"

"But, sir, I am really very sorry that it happened," apologized the manager.

"Not at all, Mr. Manager," said Mike. "I just called you over to say that you'll have to do it again."

Hints On Etiquette

If you're staying at the beach, don't carry small children into the water against their wills. It is bad manners—you wouldn't like it yourself—and is liable to frighten them so that they will be fearful of the water hereafter.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ADVICE TO TONGUE-TIED

Below I quote from a letter typical of many I am receiving from boys and girls, young men and women.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I sometimes read your articles in our local paper about helping people with their troubles and I wonder if you can help me. I am a young man and my trouble is that I have an inferiority complex and a lack of speech. I never seem able to converse freely with most people. Most of the time I am under a tension when talking to some one and it is difficult for me to converse steadily for any great length of time. I seldom go anywhere because I always get nervous in front of people and it seems as though I am at a loss to be able to say anything. So please write to me and tell me what I can do to overcome this and I will be greatly appreciative of it. I enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply."

My reply in part:

"I know how you feel. I also know that your anxiety about carrying on a conversation is caused chiefly by your notion that you must talk much to be liked and prove agreeably sociable. Let me tell you that I have received a tremendous amount of personal relief by discovering after many years of needless suffering, that I don't have to talk much; that, indeed, I can be most attractive socially at many times by just listening earnestly (and learning something, too) that all persons who converse well are greatly delighted to have an animated listener.

"I have also discovered that often in a group who are discussing matters of which I am partly or wholly ignorant, I can find comfort and relief by studying the conversation enough to ask a question which will keep the person speaking, most confidently going on—sort of winds him up when he runs down, and lets me rest. When by this procedure I can attain composure, I have no disturbing emotions to hinder my expression when perchance, an idea does come into my little head. Seriously, I commend a similar scheme to you.

"Of course you won't expect to get relief all at once. If you accomplish some noticeable progress after several months be very happy. I still have my own trouble, and I have been working at it for a number of years. But I am as sure as I know my hair is light, that the method I described has helped me. And make yourself go places.

"You might get help from my bookled Learning to be Likable. I hope you can find it in your public library. I am enclosing a selected mental health."

Any other reader may receive this by writing me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MANY TOOTLERS

Two million American youngsters are tooting and twanging away on orchestral or band instruments this very day! The proud (and somewhat disquieting) statement comes from one Ernest Williams, who runs a big music school. Mr. Williams thinks it all very wonderful. "Band practice is a fine developer of the cooperative spirit," says he. "Most boys prefer some type of horn—tuba, trombone or trumpet—and after the first few toots there is a challenge to be overcome and fun to be had."

He is quite right. When next enjoying the music of a finished cornetist, reflect on the cooperative spirit of tolerance that his neighbors were forced to develop when he started to learn to play the thing as a kid, and you'll realize the true depths of community spirit! The "fun to be had" is that of the tender-age tootlers'—but the "challenge to be overcome" is that of the neighobsr, who heroically resist the impulse to obliterate tootler and toot.

There seems something in that news that should be of profound encouragement to all and sundry in these anxious times. A country that can stand two million tuba tootlers, on top of everything else, with which it has to contend, and can put up with their practicing until they become tuneful or quit, possesses not only an ineradicable love of music, but it has a national fibre of such stern stuff that it can withstand anything, from above the earth or beneath the waters, that may assail it!

THAT GIFT CIGAR

Promotion is a mighty fine thing;
It shows me who my real friends are,
How?—they come to pat me on the back
And say, "How about that cigar?"
Or—"I'm glad to see you make it, Kid;
I always said you would go far."
Or—"You have got it in you, Kid,
Just keep on as you are."

So I'm glad I've been promoted
How else would I have known
How much faith all these friends
Have had in little me alone.
How vain my worry, when they stood prompt
To help—if I faltered in the climb
("Thanks, fellows—it is nice to know
You were backing me all the time.")

I'm glad Ive been promoted—
Not for promotion's sake alone,
But for revealing acquaintances
I've since discovered I had known.
Promotion shows who is devoted.
Who my numerous real friends are
When they come trekking on promotion
For that proverbial "gift cigar!"

Mr. Willkie says if he is elected president of the United States there will be no "Fat Cats" in his administration. He means the loafers on the payroll, no doubt.

Charity covereth a multitude of noise.

We're near enough to the war, but the truckload of applebutter upset in a Wisconsin highway would have been worth seeing.

HATS AND THE SOUL

I meant to hear the sermon today, but all the hats were in my way. The hats of gray and the hats of brown the many black hats with the pancake crown, the drab little hats and the gray one, too, that hats that were old, and the hats that were new. And I wondered if hats were perhaps a guide to minds and souls if one saw inside; if a hat of gray with a rolled-down brim meant a weary soul with its light burned dim; if the one over there with a rose of red was owned by a soul that tossed its head: if jaunty hats covered souls that were glad and if droopy souls were tired and sad; if a saucy feather that caught my eye was owned by a soul with wings to fly. Oh, I meant to hear the sermon, today, but all the hats were in my way.—Disappointed.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

I had lunch today with one of those ultra-modern mothers who believe that every degree of discipline applied to their darlings results in just another nervous jitter. And another step toward the neuropathic ward. Consequently, her only child—a daughter, now about 16—has been allowed not only freedom but license in self-expression. Among the nerve-strains from which she has been relieved are those restraints included in the common code of table-manners. The men at the table today looked at the sweet darling with amazement as she completely wolfed each helping of food given to her before they were even served and before the women at the table had commenced to eat. Moreover, she demanded at least a second ration of everything on the menu. And proud mamma later confided that according to Doctor So-and-so's new theory girls should pass through adolescence very fat.

Question: I have been invited to two church weddings—one at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 o'clock in the evening. I have several street-length silk dresses and a coat suit, but no dinner or evening clothes. What shall I wear? Helen.

Answer: Any of the street-length dresse or the coat suit will be suitable for the afternoon wedding, whether it is formal or informal.

If the evening wedding is to be informal, you may wear any of your silk dresses and a hat to both the ceremony and the reception. If the evening wedding is to be formal and you are to sit "in the ribbons" and go later to the reception, you should wear evening clothes or at least a dinner dress and a wrap. Of course if you are simply going to witness the ceremony (not going to the reception) and not "sitting in the ribbons" you may wear street clothes, if you have no dinner or evening clothes.

Question: I recent lost a bet, with a boy and I must take him to a show. Should I buy the tickets or should I give him the money to buy them?—Girl.

Answer: It would be less awkward should you purchase the tickets yourself, rather than give him the money to do so.

Tomorrow—How To Attract Friends

THE STENOGRAPHER'S DREAM

I sit and dream of the old home,
The dear ones, the orchard, the rill
As I click off on the typewriter
A decree, a motion, a bill.

I am wandering once more by the brooklet
Oblivious of clients or time
Away in the cool, shady woodland
Gathering arbutus and sweet columbine.

Away from the busy old office
From "Miss Steno, dictation, please,"
From the tiresome routine of duty,
Back 'neath the old elm trees.

Away from the bustle of business
From law-books and men—always men—
From the clickety-click of the typewriter,
Back to the old home again.

I continue thus blissfully dreaming
And unconsciously clicking, when I hear a bass voice from the office:
"Please type this brief over again."

Many of the roadside stands do not keep open on Sunday. This, in spite of the fact that they could do many times the business on that day. Those who don't keep open have a good reason for so doing.

And then a guy came up to us and said: "Bill, that's a fine car you have." "Yep. Pretty good old boat," I said. "How much do you get out of it in a mile?" Scratching my head, I said, "Oh, about six times."

Mr. Willkie is starting right at the beginning of his campaign to insist the expenses be kept low. He will use that policy when he is elected president.

Then there is the story about the small boy who was asked if he did anything but stuff himself at the church picnic.

"We sang a hymn called 'We Can Sing, Full Though We Be'," he answered.

"We did not," said his sister. "We sang 'Weak and Sinful, Though We Be'."

What's What At A Glance

Naming Of Flynn Is Disappointment
Bronx Cheers Greet His Appointment
Succeeds Farley As Democratic Leader

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — Edward J. Flynn being his party's leader in the Bronx, a chorus of Bronx cheers greeted announcement of his selection to succeed James A. Farley as chairman of the Democratic national committee and manager of the Roosevelt-Wallace campaign.

Anyway, that's the kind of applause the Republicans say they heard from the New Dealers' ranks when the news was handed out of Flynn's elevation to the post "big Jim" is retiring from.

And it's a fact that quite a few expressions of dissatisfaction are audible from various Democratic quarters.

Among others some of the most enthusiastic workers at the Chicago convention for a Roosevelian third nomination rather confidentially think that Ed was a mistake. Upon Farley's notification that he was quitting, they were in favor of letting him go as soon as possible. They never considered him much of a New Dealer, but he wasn't an "anti" either, and they recognized his political cleverness. So they got along with him very well until he developed into so emphatic a third term opponent. Since then they've been more than anxious to get rid of him.

Well, he is resigning alright—but virtually he's naming his own successor. That is to say, it's common talk that he urged his old friend Ed for the job, and F. D. saw fit to give it to him, presumably because he deemed it judicious to placate Jim all he could. But several of his lieutenants are pretty glum about it.

Tammany Dead Sore

Ed has, indeed, been a first-rate New Dealer—more so than Jim has been. The latter, while 100 per cent loyal to the Democratic label, has been a bit indifferent to New Deal policies. Ed has been New Dealerishly very active.

By being so he has bitterly antagonized Tammany.

Yet out in the west he's being referred to as a "big city boss". The west evidently thinks he's a Tammany-ite.

Old-fashioned southern Democrats look askance upon his pro-New Deal record. To be sure, Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina (which certainly is southern enough) speaks in the highest terms of him, but Senator Byrnes is a New Dealer. Texas' spokesmen, doubtless mindful of Vice President John N. Garner's fate, are anything but cheerful.

In short, Ed's on the blacklist of our biggest city's biggest political organization, but out in the western sticks he classifies as the principal boss of an overly big city. And among old-time southern Democrats he's assessed as a much too modern radical, whereas a goodly group of New Dealers see him as a stooge for a New Dealerish neutral (at best) Jim Farley.

This confusion unquestionably is largely due to the circumstance that Ed Flynn has next to no acquaintanceship throughout the country.

Ed Well Acquainted

Senator Byrnes' version is that Ed has a "wide acquaintance", as New York's national committeeman. The truth is that precious few people west of the Hudson ever heard of him until just now. He may GET acquainted as chairman, but just as a mere committeeman?—phooey!

One thing that Ed will need to attend to as speedily as convenient will be the acquisition of a few prominent floppers from other parties to New Dealerism.

Plenty of Democrats have flopped over to Willkie, but there's been no flopping in the other direction.

The other day there was a very conspicuous flop—Senator Henrik Shipstead's flop from the Farmer-Labor aggregation wasn't so queer. He explained that. He said that the Farmer-Labor organization has been taken over by "a small group of selfish, greedy and subversive men". That was a sound reason. But wouldn't one have thought that he'd have flopped to the supposedly liberal New Deal?—for he always has been rated as quite a radical. But no, he flopped to the Republicans—the relative reactionaries, according to New Deal representations.

It looks as if he didn't accept the New Deal account—as if he'd decided that today's Republicans are more progressive than the New Dealers.

That sort of flops are of such a nature that it behooves Chairman Flynn to forestall if he can manage it. We've known all the time that there were some floppish Democrats, but Republicanly flopping independents are unexpectedly noticeable.

THE BISHOP
(With all reverence)

The bishop in his cope and stole
And by his fellow priest attended
With dignity assumes his role
Until the solemn mass is ended.
But garbed in golf clothes, truly he Appears no different from me.

I watch him march the center aisle,
His blessing right and left bestowing.
And think how gracious is his smile!
How rich those saintly garments flowing.
But seeing him, I wonder why
He plays no better golf than I.

I know 'tis wrong in church to sit
Such worldly notions often thinking.
Bishops have wisdom, aye! and wit,
Yet miss the putts they should be sinking.
Like me, despite their copes and stoles.
They often "five" the "three-par holes.

In church the bishop leads the way
And walks the middle aisle in splendor.
Men list to all he has to say.
All homage unto him they render,
But golfing at our favorite club
The Bishop's jut another dub!

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Pretty good news comes out of Minneapolis for the run-of-the-mine graduate. The product of our colleges breaks up, broadly, into three groups. First are the lads who delight their professors with perfect recitations. Second are the lads who delight their coaches with touchdowns. Third are the lads who just plain do their darndest, a darndest that falls far short of Phi Beta Kappa or a varsity letter.

Offhand, the first two groups seem to have the best chance in the big race for jobs which began last June and will end the Lord knows when. But, according to Minneapolis, the last group needn't worry. The news is that jobs are less likely for Tom Touchdown and William I. Q. Bright they are for plan George Graduate, provided George has that thing that we all like to think we have—character.

Out in Minneapolis a vice president of the Investors Syndicate, a man named King Merritt, who must have a bump of curiosity as big as a watermelon, has polled the colleges of the country. He reports now on the result. Boiled down to one word that result is "Character." Employers will give a job to a man with character three times as soon as they will to a candidate whose best talking point is scholarship, and ninety-seven — that's right, ninety-seven—times as soon as they will to the candidates who comes fresh from the football field with an armload of press clippings.

"Fame is what you have taken,
"Character's what you give,
"When to this truth you waken,
"Then you begin to live."

Bayard Haylor wrote, at times, run-of-the-mine verse, but maybe that is why he could put his finger so aptly on the essential merit of the run-of-the-mine man. Seventy-five years or so ago he figured out what Mr. Merrit has just figured again after writing to 345 educational centers in forty-three states, from which almost half a million young men and women have just been graduated. Surprisingly enough in our depressed times, some of these have actually been aseked into jobs. A record number of employers sent recruiting agents to campuses the country over. Surprisingly also, at least half of the June crop of graduates will have work before September rolls around.

Most of the lucky applicants will be teaching; others will be working in engineering, in business administration, at selling, in aviation, in medicine, in law, in accounting, in agriculture, in insurance, in journalism, in ministry, in architecture, and in social welfare. But all will be where they are chiefly because their bosses gave them a look and decided they had character.

"Character," says the survey, "was emphasized by 82.73 per cent of the employers who described the man for whom they had a job waiting." Of course there were other requirements too, such as adaptability, personality, scholarship, campus popularity, atheletic prowess and enthusiasm. But character was the About Ben Adhem of the lot. It led all the rest.

Radio-Directed Firing Practised By National Guard

INDIANTOWN, GAP., Pa., Aug. 9.—Stimulating tactics used by the German invaders of Norway, the first battalion of the 108th Field Artillery, P. N. G. on Thursday engaged in radio-directed firing on rugged terrain surrounding the training base here.

Back from the "battle of Bedford" on a trip that required only five and one-half hours by way of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the National Guardsmen directed, by field telephone and radio, firing of concealed guns two miles distant.

The battalion on its return from Bedford yesterday rejoined the regiment under Command of Col. William A. March and prepared for new maneuvers.

Eighty-five of the 135 miles of the trip was over the still incomplete $70,000,000 express highway.

Donahey Against Conscription Act

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Asserting that peacetime military conscription would be an "unprecedented expedient," Senator Donahey (D) Ohio, announced Thursday he will vote against the pending bill to make 12,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31 liable for a year of military training.

In an open letter to his Ohio constitutents Donahey contended:

"First: That this country is in no danger from attack without, if it attends to its own business.

"Second: That voluntary enlistment, for home defense only, for one year at $36 per month should be authorized and carried on until Jan. 1, 1941.

"Third: Then and only then will the congress be able to determine the necessity of nationwide conscription.

"I consider the enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth measure at the moment an unprecedented expedient without basic consideration and I intend to vote against it."

National Defense Center Planned For Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9—Plans for building a $75,000 work center in Pittsburgh for training Pennsylvania youth to participate in non-combatant phases of the national defense program was announced Thursday by State N. Y. A. Director Walter S. Cowing.

The Center, with shop and dormitory buildings, will be the most modern of its kind and will be a model for others to be erected at a later date, engineers said.

In it, young men would be trained in manual and mechanical tasks closely allied to the defense program. South Park, a public recreational area located near Pittsburgh, is being considered as a possible site for the project.

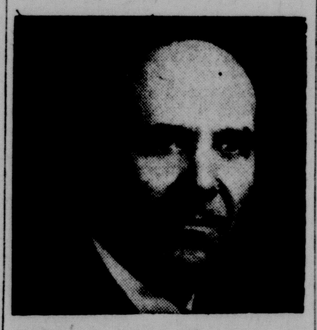
"I GAINED 7 LBS. ON RETONGA AND FEEL FINE"

Daniel Nichols Praises Famous Medicine In Strong Public Endorsement.



Hundreds of well-known Pennsylvania residents are taking and praising the famous new herbal medicine Retonga. Among those giving Retonga his enthusiastic public endorsement is Mr. Daniel Nichols, for fourteen years a respected resident of 858 Western Ave., Pittsburgh.

"For two years I spent dollar after dollar trying to get relief from indigestion and such stubborn constipation that I had to keep taking one strong purgative after another," declared Mr. Nichols. "My stomach seemed full of acids and my food seemed to do me no good. Gas bloating kept me feeling miserable day in and day out. I am on my feet all day, and by night I was so tired I felt like I would never get rested. I was about as badly discouraged as any man in Pittsburgh.

"Retonga helped me from the very first. Now my elimination is regular, the indigestion is relieved, and I have such a splendid appetite I have gained seven pounds of needed weight. I feel better and stronger than in years. I am glad to tell others about Retonga, and nobody knows how thankful I am for what it did for me."

Radio-Directed Firing Practised By National Guard

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN, GAP., Pa., Aug. 9.—Stimulating tactics used by the German invaders of Norway, the first battalion of the 108th Field Artillery, P. N. G. on Thursday engaged in radio-directed firing on rugged terrain surrounding the training base here.

Back from the "battle of Bedford" on a trip that required only five and one-half hours by way of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the National Guardsmen directed, by field telephone and radio, firing of concealed guns two miles distant.

The battalion on its return from Bedford yesterday rejoined the regiment under Command of Col. William A. March and prepared for new maneuvers.

Major Theodore S. Paul, in charge of the battalon, said he was pleased with the speed attained on the return trip, compared with the eight hours 15 minutes required for the unit to cover the distance Tuesday. Eighty-five of the 135 miles of the trip was over the still incomplete $70,000,000 express highway.

Donahey Against Conscription Act

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Asserting that peacetime military conscription would be an "unprecedented expedient," Senator Donahey (D) Ohio, announced Thursday he will vote against the pending bill to make 12,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31 liable for a year of military training.

In an open letter to his Ohio constitutents Donahey contended:

"First: That this country is in no danger from attack without, if it attends to its own business.

"Second: That voluntary enlistment, for home defense only, for one year at $36 per month should be authorized and carried on until Jan. 1, 1941.

"Third: Then and only then will the congress be able to determine the necessity of nationwide conscription.

"I consider the enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth measure at the moment an unprecedented expedient without basic consideration and I intend to vote against it."

POORER AND WISER CLAIMS PRESIDENT

Roosevelt said he expected Wallace to resign from the cabinet as soon as he starts off on a campaign trip.

Mr. Roosevelt listed his definite travel plans for the future, in addition to the tour of New England naval bases upon which he starts late today, as follows:

Return Aug. 31

He will return to Hyde Park on Aug. 31 to attend the annual meeting of the Roosevelt Home Club. This yearly assemblage of loyal Democrats in and around Hyde Park village is held at the home of the president's tenant farmer, Moses Smith.

Some time in September he hopes to journey to Asheville, N. C., and dedicate the great Smoky Mountains National Park. The president has three times scheduled this trip and on each occasion the fall of another nation in the European war forced cancellation.

Mr. Roosevelt virtually ruled out any west coast trip between now and election if the European situation remains as it is.

In making his series of national defense inspections, he said, he will try never to be more than 12 or 14 hours from Washington. With conditions abroad as they are, he feels he should always be within striking distance of the national capital.

Continue Freezing Foreign Holdings

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, on Thursday said that United States would continue to "sit on" foreign holdings in this country until the responsibility can be fixed for payment of war debts owed this nation by countries now occupied by Germany.

Morgenthau referred to foreign-held funds which the U. S. government has "frozen" as nation after nation has fallen before Germany's armed might.

"We don't know what's going to happen to American debts in this occupied territory," Morgenthau told reporters. "Until the state department can advise us about the status of these occupied countries I will continue to sit on these frozen funds. There is nothing we can do about them except wait. I'm just sitting on them, and I believe I am acting in the interest of the American people. Surely no American will lose by it."

It was the first time the treasury secretary had brought up the question of war debt responsibility in connection with the nations invaded by Nazi Germany.

Although it has never been disclosed the frozen funds are reported to amount to several billions dollars. They are frozen against delivery to residents in occupied France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, the last three having been taken over by Russia.

Man Is Killed By Bandit As Young Daughter Watches

(International News Service)

PASSAIC, N. J., Aug. 9—While his teen-age daughter watched in wide-eyed horror, Ernest Heinrich, 38, was shot to death by one of two bandits Thursday.

Heinrich, a mill worker, had volunteered to attend to cashing of fellow employes' pay checks. With his daughter, Barbara, 15, Heinrich was accosted by the two armed bandits as he entered his apartment building.

Ordered to surrender the money, $1,000 he had just brought from the bank, Heinrich struck out at the nearest of the thugs. One slugged him with the butt end of a gun, the other coolly took aim and fired.

Henrich dropped lifeless to the street. The bandits fled, empty-handed. It is believed they made their escape in a car that had been parked nearby.

Greyhound racing over lighted tracks at night is drawing large crowds to the dog tracks in many Florida cities. Most of the speedsters that spring around the track chasing a mechanical rabbit are big greyhounds. But in Miami there are some Italian "toy" greyhounds. Only one-third the size of the big fellow, but faster by comparison, the vest-pocket dog, weighing from eight to fifteen pounds, can cover a sixteenth of a mile in eight seconds.

(Special To The News)

CAMP KIONDASHAWA, Aug. 9—Seven members of the permanent camp committee of the New Castle Girl Scout Council motored to Camp Kiondashawa Thursday to make an inspection of the camp facilities.

Headed by Mrs. W. H. Hangar, chairman, the following made up the visiting party: Mrs. Irvin Balph, Emily Rice, Mrs. Andrew Douds, Mrs. Arthur Foster, Helen Wilson and Mrs. Harry O. Sturdevant.

Audrielle Lynch met the group at the camp and took them on an inspection tour showing them the Little and Middle units installed in comfortable cabins, the swimming pool with Mrs. Margaret Frew as supervisor, the Pioneers and Gypsy Unit and the canoeing project on the Shenango River under the supervision of Mrs. Becky Johnston.

Plans have been completed for the Gypsies to leave Tuesday for the Pymatuning where they will camp until Saturday. Sunday will be official visiting day at Camp Kiondashawa, and parents and friends of the girls will be welcome to visit the site.

The Hobby Unit girls brought out their puppets for an etiquette show which was staged in the different units at campfire. Swimming classes are an active part of the routine for the Hobby group and the girls are rapidly learning the art of boating.

Friday evening, the camp group gathered about a huge campfire and were entertained by a clever program by the gypsies.

James Would Not Oppose No-Speed Limit On New Road

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9—Gov. Arthur H. James indicated today he would not interfere with the no-speed limit proposed for the new Pennsylvania turnpike.

Landscaping of areas surrounding the 10 gasoline-restaurant concessions on the Harrisburg-to-Pittsburgh superhighway will begin at once, officials said, following the award of a $5,380 contract to the Colonial Nurseries, Harrisburg.

Evergreens, trees and shrubbery will be transplanted and lawn areas seeded at the midway station, located near Bedford, the half-way point on the Harrisburg to Pittsburg super highway. It is planned to complete this project within two weeks, after which treatment of the other areas will begin.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 9.—Walking into a funeral parlor on Wednesday, 66-year-old Louis Schwartz plunked down $100—explaining it was for a "future" funeral.

WENDELL WILLKIE WORKS ON SPEECH

and way stations and the result was that he did not get around to the speech until a week ago.

However, he had most of the material in mind and the rough draft was completed over a week ago.

Show Friends

Willkie said he intended to show it to some of his friends and some of the leaders of the party and it is probable that both former President Herbert Hoover and Alf M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, will hear it read before the rest of the nation does.

Hoover will be here either Saturday or Sunday and Landon is coming to lunch Monday.

That Willkie will include at least some reference to the Democratic machines was indicated by his announcement that he has asked District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York to make some speeches in the mid-west on the connection between the machines and the government.

Apparently, an attack on the Democratic organizations now figures as an important factor in his campaign plans.

BUFFALO MAYOR IS NOT FOR WILLKIE

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—An erroneous Washington report listing Mayor Thomas L. Holling of Buffalo as among those Democrats bolting to the Wendell Willkie camp was definitely repudiated today.

On behalf of the mayor, it was stated:

"Mayor Holling definitely and positively has stated in all press interviews that he is one of those Democrats who will not ally himself to the Willkie cause."

Night Crowd Sees 'Boy Meets Girl'

"Boy Meets Girl," the Provincial Players' first summer playhouse offering, drew a large audience to Cascade Park's new open-air theater last night

Out of almost nothing, with almost nothing, the determined dramatics group, with a co-operative WPA, has fashioned a playhouse seating 350 and with unlimited future possibilities. Proceeds go to help develop the project.

The talented cast repeats the three-act farce tonight and Saturday night at 8:15, Director James Sotus said.

Postal Employes Will Hold Picnic

On August 17, the annual outing of postal employees will be held at El Rio Beach, formerly Castle Beach.

General chairman is W. E. Clark supported by the following committees.

Sports: Kenneth Lutz and Rex Fraley. Coffee and lemonade, Al Klingensmith, Jess Wilson, Guy Aubel and Clarence Reiber. Table, Ben McCann, Walter Leslie, John Gaston, Donald Gross, Clare Lutz, Geo. Parker, Tully Glass.

Following the dinner, there will be a program in honor of the new pastmaster, William Hanna. The committee will be Al Johnson, Ed. Bollard, Roy Allshouse and and Francis Augustine.

Two special prizes will be given, one to the ladies, the other for the men instead of the former guessing contest.

James Would Not Oppose No-Speed Limit On New Road

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9—Gov. Arthur H. James indicated today he would not interfere with the no-speed limit proposed for the new Pennsylvania turnpike.

Landscaping of areas surrounding the 10 gasoline-restaurant concessions on the Harrisburg-to-Pittsburgh superhighway will begin at once, officials said, following the award of a $5,380 contract to the Colonial Nurseries, Harrisburg.

Evergreens, trees and shrubbery will be transplanted and lawn areas seeded at the midway station, located near Bedford, the half-way point on the Harrisburg to Pittsburg super highway. It is planned to complete this project within two weeks, after which treatment of the other areas will begin.

MAKES DOWN PAYMENT, THEN TAKES HIS LIFE

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 9.—Walking into a funeral parlor on Wednesday, 66-year-old Louis Schwartz plunked down $100—explaining it was for a "future" funeral.

WENDELL WILLKIE WORKS ON SPEECH

and way stations and the result was that he did not get around to the speech until a week ago.

However, he had most of the material in mind and the rough draft was completed over a week ago.

Show Friends

Willkie said he intended to show it to some of his friends and some of the leaders of the party and it is probable that both former President Herbert Hoover and Alf M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, will hear it read before the rest of the nation does.

Hoover will be here either Saturday or Sunday and Landon is coming to lunch Monday.

That Willkie will include at least some reference to the Democratic machines was indicated by his announcement that he has asked District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York to make some speeches in the mid-west on the connection between the machines and the government.

Apparently, an attack on the Democratic organizations now figures as an important factor in his campaign plans.

Dr. Dafoe Explains Quints Tonsil Loss

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—Reasons for the removal of the tonsils of all the Dionne quintuplets were reported today by the quints' medical guardian, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, writing in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Dafoe's article was in reply to the query of a New York physician as to why "such perfectly reared children should all at the same time have tonsils so diseased that they had to be removed."

"There appears to be an implied suggestion in the inquiry," Dr. Dafoe wrote, "to the effect that the removal of the quintuplets' tonsils was an example of unjustified 'wholesale' tonsillectomy."

Operations Needed

Asserting he personally is opposed to the removal of tonsils when it is not necessary, Dr. Dafoe declared the operations were needed in the quints' case.

"The children had been subject to recurring attacks of tonsilitis of growing severity over the course of between two and three years," he wrote, adding that Dr. Allan Brown of Toronto, one of Canada's foremost specialists in treating children's diseases, had found the tonsils of all the quints were "chronically inflamed".

Eight months after the tonsillectomies, Dr. Brown again examined the quints, reported he found "remarkable improvement since the removal of their sources of infection," and said "the operations will act as an insurance policy for their future health".

No Explanation

Dr. Dafoe said he could not explain why diseased tonsils appeared in the quints, though he claimed it was not surprising the condition affected all five in view of their close association and identical environment. However, he added:

"It is well known that diseased tonsils occur in children of the best homes as well as those of the worst. We believe the care that has been given to these children is the best possible care we could have given them. These children are subject to outside sources of infection a great deal more than the public realizes, despite our attempts to protect them."

Engineer Injured As Pennsy Freight Of 20 Cars Derails

(International News Service)

DU BOIS, Pa., Aug. 9.—Twenty cars and one locomotive of a 64-car freight train were derailed and badly damaged Thursday on the Renovo division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Winterburn.

The engineer, C. T. Hackett of DuBois, suffered arm and back injuries but others of the crew escaped when the heavy engine and tender rolled over an embankment.

Four of 53 loaded cars in the train followed the engine down the embankment.

The train was travelling east toward Driftwood when the derailment apparently caused by an obstruction on the track occurred.

Hackett, it was reported by railroad officials at Pittsburgh, was buried in coal from the tender, and was taken to DuBois hospital.

Sixteen of the freight cars, some loaded with merchandise, were badly smashed.

Communication from the scene of the wreck was cut off when the careening train pulled down telephone lines, it was reported.

S. A. McCool of New Kensington, fireman on the lomocotive, escaped injury.

BARKBY NEW OFFICER OF ACADEMY GROUP

Harry Barkby, 217 Hillcrest avenue, is one of the newly appointed vice presidents of the Culver Fathers' association at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind. His son Frederick attends the Culver Summer Woodcraft school. William C. Arthur, president of Talon, Inc., Meadville, is the association president this year.

ITALIAN COLUMNS REPORTED STOPPED

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Aug. 9.—Two Italian columns which Wednesday advanced from Ethiopia into British Somaliland were halted today at Hargeisa and Odweina, according to an official British announcement.

"Royal air force reconnaissance patrols report little movement of the Fascist forces in the vicinity of either place," the communique said.

Modify Tank Plans For Modern Warfare

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — The United States government is modifying the designs of its most modern war tanks at the suggestion of British veterans of the campaign in which Nazi Germany defeated France, it became known Thursday.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau revealed today that experts on the British war purchasing commission in the United States who formerly commanded tank battalions in the fierce fighting have given American tank designers suggestions aimed at making tanks more effective both in offense and defense. He added that as a result, designs of tanks for the defense program now in production have been changed to incorporate ideas worked out as a result of experience under fire by the English tank commanders.

Morgenthau would not reveal the nature of these changes. He made his disclosure as a carefully planned burst of speed thrust the administration defense program into the early production stage on all fronts.

Secretary of War Stimson placed six government gun and ammunition plants on a 24-hour six-day week basis, a program calculated to provide about 8,000 new jobs for skilled mechanics and more than 16,000 for less skilled workers.

The navy reported naval air and sea base improvements in the Pacific will be completed months ahead of schedule.

Edward Tamm, assistant Federal Bureau of Investigation director, and the war department intelligence division, have developed a coordinated plan for the quick detection of subversive activities, saboteurs and "fifth columns."

Increased Need

The war department said the need for war supplies and increased employment, prompted its action in putting the arsenals on a 24-hour basis. Workers will be paid time and a half for work over 40 hours a week. The three shift order, virtually tripling the workers in the plants, applied to the arsenals in Rock Island, Ill.; Watertown, Mass.; Philadelphia; Springfield, Mass.; Dover, N. J.; and Watervliet, N. Y., the three shifts will begin work Aug. 10.

Arthur B. Purvis, head of the British purchasing commission, said British plan to expand their American munition purchases by "hundreds of millions of dollars." He said the additional purchases would be in fields not so far entered by the commission, and would include tanks and field artillery.

Dr. Dafoe Explains Quints Tonsil Loss

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Reasons for the removal of the tonsils of all the Dionne quintuplets were reported today by the quints' medical guardian, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, writing in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Dafoe's article was in reply to the query of a New York physician as to why "such perfectly reared children should all at the same time have tonsils so diseased that they had to be removed."

"There appears to be an implied suggestion in the inquiry," Dr. Dafoe wrote, "to the effect that the removal of the quintuplets' tonsils was an example of unjustified 'wholesale' tonsillectomy."

Operations Needed

Asserting he personally is opposed to the removal of tonsils when it is not necessary, Dr. Dafoe declared the operations were needed in the quints' case.

"The children had been subject to recurring attacks of tonsillitis of growing severity over the course of between two and three years," he wrote, adding that Dr. Allan Brown of Toronto, one of Canada's foremost specialists in treating children's diseases, had found the tonsils of all the quints were "chronically inflamed".

Eight months after the tonsillectomies, Dr. Brown again examined the quints, reported he found "remarkable improvement since the removal of their sources of infection," and said "the operations will act as an insurance policy for their future health".

No Explanation

Dr. Dafoe said he could not explain why diseased tonsils appeared in the quints, though he claimed it was not surprising the condition affected all five in view of their close association and identical environment. However, he added:

"It is well known that diseased tonsils occur in children of the best homes as well as those of the worst. We believe the care that has been given to these children is the best possible care we could have given them. These children are subject to outside sources of infection a great deal more than the public realizes, despite our attempts to protect them."

Engineer Injured As Pennsy Freight Of 20 Cars Derails

(International News Service)

DU BOIS, Pa., Aug. 9.—Twenty cars and one locomotive of a 64-car freight train were derailed and badly damaged Thursday on the Renovo division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Winterburn.

The engineer, C. T. Hackett of DuBois, suffered arm and back injuries but others of the crew escaped when the heavy engine and tender rolled over an embankment.

Four of 53 loaded cars in the train followed the engine down the embankment.

The train was travelling east toward Driftwood when the derailment apparently caused by an obstruction on the track occurred.

Hackett, it was reported by railroad officials at Pittsburgh, was buried in coal from the tender, and was taken to DuBois hospital.

Sixteen of the freight cars, some loaded with merchandise, were badly smashed.

Communication from the scene of the wreck was cut off when the careening train pulled down telephone lines, it was reported.

S. A. McCool of New Kensington, fireman on the locomotive, escaped injury.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PROPER DIET

Mothers frequently ask me what I consider the most important guide post to health in the growth of a child. Years ago, this question used to puzzle me some, for there are so many important factors in the growth of a child. Now, years of experience have convinced me that proper diet is the most important of all.

If a young mother has grasped the fundamentals of diet and uses the knowledge properly, she has laid the foundation for the health of the child. For improper diet is almost certain to injure him, retard his growth and give him a poor start in a life where the best start is what he deserves.

No part of the great field of child betterment has made such valuable advances in knowledge as diet, which means good food carefully chosen and carefully prepared, provided in meals properly balanced and timed in relation to the child's other activities.

I am convinced that proper diet is the basis of our remarkably good fortune in being able to keep alive the Quintuplets. Certainly, it is the prime reason why they have such strong, sturdy bodies. Of course, as I said above, there are a lot of factors that enter into the proper growth of a child, but it was diet, more than the others, which pulled our five premature mites through to have strong, normal physiques and abundant health.

Proper diet for the child starts with breast-feeding of the baby for the proper period. For the babies of those unfortunate women who can't nurse a baby—and there are very few of these, there are formulas worked out that contain most of the necessary health items for your child. But these bottle-fed babies won't have as good a start in life as breast-fed infants.

As the child grows older, then cow's milk will be added to his diet; so will green vegetables, cereals, fruits and fruit juices. An essential will be cod liver oil, all year around. After I saw what cod liver oil did for the Quintuplets any reservations about it were swept away.

One of the last foods to be added to the diet of the growing baby is meat. He gets many of the food values of meat in eggs; sometimes the doctor may allow him to have yolk of eggs as early as five months.

Meat in itself is difficult for babies to digest. They should have their first taste of it in the form in which we gave it to the Quintuplets—a broth mixed with cooked vegetables. We have made use of the good prepared broths on the market, but any mother can make her own at home with beef, mutton or chicken. Mixing broth with vegetables makes a vegetable soup, but it is better to cook the two different foods for the baby separately. Vegetables should be boiled or steamed only long enough to make them tender, whereas broth requires at least three hours for proper cooking.

One thing about diet needs to be impressed upon mothers over and over. It is as great a mistake perhaps worse to overfeed a child as to underfeed it. Giving baby the proper foods at the proper times isn't all there is to the job of feeding him correctly. Me must get the proper amounts.

Young Girl Given Sentence Of Year Result Of Thefts

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—Sobbing bitterly, Helene Eichenlaub, 26, who has confessed to 17 robberies and denied six others, Thursday was sentenced to at least a year in jail for robbing mourners at funerals.

She has reimbursed her victims, she told Judge Henry Ellenbogen. She denied, however, that any man accompanied her or encouraged her to rifle the purses of grieving mourners at funeral masses.

Asked why she had done it, she replied:

"I needed the money. I needed clothes and money to pay for clothes. I was broke. The thought just came into my head one morning to do this.

"If I ever get another chance I will never do such a thing again. I am sorry from my heart for what I have done and the sorrow I have caused mother. I am ashamed, terribly ashamed."

Her weeping, gray-haired 65-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Eichenlaub, said she couldn't "dream" of why her daughter should get mixed up in the robberies.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PROPER DIET

Mothers frequently ask me what I consider the most important guide post to health in the growth of a child. Years ago, this question used to puzzle me some, for there are so many important factors in the growth of a child. Now, years of experience have convinced me that proper diet is the most important of all.

If a young mother has grasped the fundamentals of diet and uses the knowledge properly, she has laid the foundation for the health of the child. For improper diet is almost certain to injure him, retard his growth and give him a poor start in a life where the best start is what he deserves.

No part of the great field of child betterment has made such valuable advances in knowledge as diet, which means good food carefully chosen and carefully prepared, provided in meals properly balanced and timed in relation to the child's other activities.

I am convinced that proper diet is the basis of our remarkably good fortune in being able to keep alive the Quintuplets. Certainly, it is the prime reason why they have such strong, sturdy bodies. Of course, as I said above, there are a lot of factors that enter into the proper growth of a child, but it was diet, more than the others, which pulled our five premature mites through to have strong, normal physiques and abundant health.

House Committee Gives Go Signal On Refugee Bill

Approves Bill To Permit Refugee Children From War Torn Countries To Enter Here

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 9—The house immigration committee on Thursday unanimously approved a bill to permit refugee children from all war-torn European countries to enter the United States.

Committee witnesses said if the bill is finally enacted into law, young refugees will come here at the rate of 50,000 a month.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Schulte, (D) Ind., would allow issuance of temporary two-year visas to children under sixteen years of age, "who in the opinion of the United States consul before whom they appear, are seeking to enter the United States to be safe from the changes or effects of war."

The bill provides, however, that the children must have their passage paid, and that assurances must be given the attorney general that the refugee will not become public charges in this country.

Before today's action Susan M. Pulsifer, chairman of the women's committee for release of mercy ships told the committee there are 250-000 homes in this country ready to receive the children. She said American ships could bring them to our shores at the rate of 50,000 a month.

The house yesterday passed a bill amending the neutrality act permitting American ships to enter war zones to evacuate children, and leaders today predicted the Schulte bill would also be approved speedily.

London, Aug. 9—Official British circles today warmly welcomed news that the house of representatives in Washington favors allowing American ships to carry British child refugees from England to the United States.

It was expected the government scheme to evacuate children from state-aided schools may be started immediately.

Russo-Turkish Alliance Urged By Moslem Heads

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Aug. 9.—Alarmed by joint German and Russian pressure, the Turkish government seeks to appease the Soviets and was reported to have offered Moscow a Russo-Turkish alliance.

Such an alliance, if formed, undoubtedly would give Russia some share in control of the vital Dardanelles.

According to reports in Budapest, under the proposed alliance, Russia would insist that Turkey pledge herself to defend the Iraman oil fields in the event any third party attacked Iran.

In return, it was stated, Turkey would demand that Russia guarantee Turkey's northern frontier in the event Turkey became involved in war in Syria.

Berlin and Moscow cooperated in pressure upon Turkey as moves for settlement of Balkan revisionist claims progressed.

With the support of Germany, it was understood, Hungary is demanding return of half of Transylvania, which Hungary lost to Rumania after the World War.

Watchman Dying As Result Of Burns As Big Tanks Take Fire

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Fred Staeck, 40, a watchman, was feared to be dying of burns and three firemen were being treated for severe injuries suffered while fighting a $500,000 blaze that swept the gasoline "Tank City" on the north side of Syracuse.

The blaze spread through the large collection of gasoline storage tanks after the explosion of a large tank on the Richfield Oil Company property, according to firemen. All of the city's fire apparatus was pressed into service and finally succeeded by the use of chemicals in preventing the fast-spreading oil-fed fire from growing into a major disaster.

Great Britain Promises Indian Dominion Status

SIMLA, Aug. 9—While rejecting the demands of Mahatma Gandhi's followers for immediate complete independence, Great Britain has offered India a number of concessions of far reaching importance.

The concessions announced by the Marques of Linlithgow, British viceroy of India, included renewed assurances of Great Britain's intention to grant India full dominion status after the war.

Immediate expansion of the viceroy's executive council to include a number of representative Indian political leaders also was promised as was establishment of a war advisory council to meet at regular intervals and to contain representatives of the Indian states, and of other interests in the national life of India.

Own Constitution

Lord Linlithgow's statement also said the British government was in full sympathy with India's insistence that the future constitution should be drafted by the Indians themselves. The statement added that Great Britain would, after the war, readily assent to establishment of a representative all-India body to devise the frame-work of the new constitution.

However, in regard to the pressing demands of the all India congress members for immediate and absolute independence for India as the price of that nation's wholehearted support of Britain in the present European conflict, Lord Linlithgow said:

"It is clear that a moment when the commonwealth is engaged in a struggle for existence is not one in which fundamental constitutional issues can be decisively resolved," the viceroy's statement said.

Calling attention to the repeated statements of the British government that dominion status was Britain's objective for India, Lord Linlithgow added:

"His majesty's government authorize me to declare they will most readily assent to the setting up after the conclusion of the war, with the least possible delay, of a body representative of the principal elements in Indian national life in order to devise the framework of the new constitution, and they will lend every aid in their power to hasten decisions on all relevent matters to the utmost degree."

Consider Minorities

Meanwhile, the viceroy's statement continued, the British government had authorized expansion of the government-general's council to include "a certain number of representatives of political parties," as well as establishment of a consultative committee. Lord Linlithgow also was authorized to give definite assurances that "full weight" will be given the views of Indian political minorities in deciding any future constitutional scheme.

It is considered unlikely that Mahatma Gandhi's followers will be satisfied with these assurances, but will probably continue to demand immediate and complete independence.

(Editor's Note: British Secretary of State for India L. S. Amery announced in the House of Commons in London today that Lord Linlithgow would make a pronouncement of far-reaching importance on India. He outlined the concessions Great Britain was offering India.)

House Committee Gives Go Signal On Refugee Bill

Approves Bill To Permit Refugee Children From War Torn Countries To Enter Here

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 9—The house immigration committee on Thursday unanimously approved a bill to permit refugee children from all war-torn European countries to enter the United States.

Committee witnesses said if the bill is finally enacted into law, young refugees will come here at the rate of 50,000 a month.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Schulte, (D) Ind., would allow issuance of temporary two-year visas to children under sixteen years of age, "who in the opinion of the United States consul before whom they appear, are seeking to enter the United States to be safe from the changes or effects of war."

The bill provides, however, that the children must have their passage paid, and that assurances must be given the attorney general that the refugee will not become public charges in this country.

Before today's action Susan M. Pulsifer, chairman of the women's committee for release of mercy ships told the committee there are 250,000 homes in this country ready to receive the children. She said American ships could bring them to our shores at the rate of 50,000 a month.

The house yesterday passed a bill amending the neutrality act permitting American ships to enter war zones to evacuate children, and leaders today predicted the Schulte bill would also be approved speedily.

London, Aug. 9—Official British circles today warmly welcomed news that the house of representatives in Washington favors allowing American ships to carry British child refugees from England to the United States.

It was expected the government scheme to evacuate children from state-aided schools may be started immediately.

Russo-Turkish Alliance Urged By Moslem Heads

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Aug. 9.—Alarmed by joint German and Russian pressure, the Turkish government seeks to appease the Soviets and was reported to have offered Moscow a Russo-Turkish alliance.

Such an alliance, if formed, undoubtedly would give Russia some share in control of the vital Dardanelles.

According to reports in Budapest, under the proposed alliance, Russia would insist that Turkey pledge herself to defend the Iraman oil fields in the event any third party attacked Iran.

In return, it was stated, Turkey would demand that Russia guarantee Turkey's northern frontier in the event Turkey became involved in war in Syria.

Berlin and Moscow cooperated in pressure upon Turkey as moves for settlement of Balkan revisionist claims progressed.

With the support of Germany, it was understood, Hungary is demanding return of half of Transylvania, which Hungary lost to Rumania after the World War.

Watchman Dying As Result Of Burns As Big Tanks Take Fire

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Fred Staeck, 40, a watchman, was feared to be dying of burns and three firemen were being treated for severe injuries suffered while fighting a $500,000 blaze that swept the gasoline "Tank City" on the north side of Syracuse.

The blaze spread through the large collection of gasoline storage tanks after the explosion of a large tank on the Richfield Oil Company property, according to firemen. All of the city's fire apparatus was pressed into service and finally succeeded by the use of chemicals in preventing the fast-spreading oil-fed fire from growing into a major disaster.

Attaches of the various court house offices are all jittery over the mysterious disappearance of Leviathan, a 22-pound snapping turtle, which was being delicately groomed for a kettle of turtle soup in the spring house at Andy Dodds' cottage on the Slippery Rock. Some claim that if certain things were known that there would be no mystery to it, while others maintain a mysterious air, and others look just plain disappointed, principally lovers of turtle soup.

"Mack" McCracken, one of the court house custodians caught the giant in one of those bottomless pools near West Pittsburg, and it was raffled off, Cliff James winning the turtle. It was such a vicious reptile that Cliff was afraid of the monster, so he gave it over into the custody of Andy Dodds, who is no more afraid of a turtle than he is a tiger. Then it seems as if there arose financial difficulties between Andy and Cliff, and Cliff secured a writ of replevin and took possession of the turtle by stealth. At least that is the story which is being bruited about in some circles. Of course it is understood that all names used in connection with this story are purely fictitious, and the fact that they are the same as some court house employes is purely coincidental. Anyhow, court house attaches who failed to show up at the fair last evening, when the turtle disappeared are under deep suspicion of Mr. Dodds, who is heartbroken over the loss of his pet.

There is going to be a picnic at Muddy Creek Falls, Wednesday, August 21, which will be the last word in picnics, so claims the committee in charge of arrangements. It is being promoted for the best social interests of the Lawrence County employes and members of the Lawrence County Bar Association.

It is planned to leave New Castle at noon and go directly to Muddy Creek Falls, near Rose Point for a picnic dinner, which will be served at 1:30 o'clock. The succeeding hours will be spent in the customary picnic routine, which will consist for the most part in sitting around, recovering from an overdose of eating.

Attaches of the various court house offices are all jittery over the mysterious disappearance of Leviathan, a 22-pound snapping turtle, which was being delicately groomed for a kettle of turtle soup in the spring house at Andy Dodds' cottage on the Slippery Rock. Some claim that if certain things were known that there would be no mystery to it, while others maintain a mysterious air, and others look just plain disappointed, principally lovers of turtle soup.

"Mack" McCracken, one of the court house custodians caught the giant in one of those bottomless pools near West Pittsburg, and it was raffled off, Cliff James winning the turtle. It was such a vicious reptile that Cliff was afraid of the monster, so he gave it over into the custody of Andy Dodds, who is no more afraid of a turtle than he is a tiger. Then it seems as if there arose financial difficulties between Andy and Cliff, and Cliff secured a writ of replevin and took possession of the turtle by stealth. At least that is the story, which is being bruited about in some circles. Of course it is understood that all names used in connection with this story are purely fictitious, and the fact that they are the same as some court house employes is purely coincidental. Anyhow, court house attaches who failed to show up at the fair last evening, when the turtle disappeared are under deep suspicion of Mr. Dodds, who is heartbroken over the loss of his pet.

There is going to be a picnic at Muddy Creek Falls, Wednesday, August 21, which will be the last word in picnics, so claims the committee in charge of arrangements. It is being promoted for the best social interests of the Lawrence County employes and members of the Lawrence County Bar Association.

It is planned to leave New Castle at noon and go directly to Muddy Creek Falls, near Rose Point for a picnic dinner, which will be served at 1:30 o'clock. The succeeding hours will be spent in the customary picnic routine, which will consist for the most part in sitting around, recovering from an overdose of eating.

Red Cross First Aid Instructors Will Review Work

Dr. Albert H. Sharpe, National Instructor, Will Be Here Next Month

Dr. Albert H. Sharpe, National Red Cross First Aid Instructor will be in the Lawrence County Chapter from Sept. 9th to Sept. 20th for an Instructor's Course.

The course is of thirty hours of instruction. This is in addition to any First Aid training the applicants may have. The classes will be held three hours each evening from Monday to Friday.

Each applicant, in taking the house, pledges to instruct one class during the year. The class must be limited to forty individuals. Application blanks are available at the Chapter House office. These blanks must be filed no later than the first of September.

It is the desire of Mr. Harry Culliford, chairman of First Aid, to have all Industries and organizations avail themselves of this course and enroll their representatives.

It is the requirement of the National Office that all its Instructors renew their instructors training every three years. In this way the National Red Cross can keep their instructors up to the new standards of First Aid and the Chapter also is able to train new instructors in this course.

The only expense of the course is for the First Aid manual and supplies used in the class which amounts to one dollar, payable upon registration.

A William Read, once a tailor, convinced Queen Anne of England he had cured her chronic eye weakness, so the queen knighted him and he became one of the most fashionable doctors of his day.

Demented Man Is Taken To Hospital

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—A man who locked himself in his room at the Hotel Tudor, and refused to come out unless he had "police protection," was taken to Bellevue hospital for observation today after he was prevented from fulfilling a threat to jump out a window.

Police said that the man, registered as Martin A. Arrowood, of Dallas, Tex., was suffering from a "persecution complex."

For a half hour Patrolman Henry Heller sat on an adjoining window ledge on the sixth floor poking Arrowwood back into his room with his night stick each time he approached his own window.

Finally other police burst open Arrowwood's door and seized him. He offered no resistance.

Rubber "frosting," a dulling of the surface observed in vulcanized rubber footwear, raincoats, and other articles, may be prevented by protective films such as lacquer or varnish or by chemical treatment. The frosting, which occurs most frequently in warm humid weather, is a microscopic disintegration of the surface caused by ozone in the air.

Rhode Island once had laws providing penalties for refusal to accept public office on election.

Plan Adopted Last Sunday At Methodist Church To Be Continued Through Summer

Plans were announced today by Rev. D. J. Blasdell, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, to continue the unified service plan adopted last Sunday. The plan proved so popular that it will be used all through summer.

By the use of the unified services members of the congregation are dismissed earlier but ample time is provided for both the Sunday school lesson and the sermon.

The Sunday school begins at 9:45 o'clock, under the new plan, and after the study of the lesson a period of worship with the sermon follows. The service will conclude about 11:30 o'clock.

Red Cross First Aid Instructors Will Review Work

Dr. Albert H. Sharpe, National Instructor, Will Be Here Next Month

Dr. Albert H. Sharpe, National Red Cross First Aid Instructor will be in the Lawrence County Chapter from Sept. 9th to Sept. 20th for an Instructor's Course.

The course is of thirty hours of instruction. This is in addition to any First Aid training the applicants may have. The classes will be held three hours each evening from Monday to Friday.

Each applicant, in taking the house, pledges to instruct one class during the year. The class must be limited to forty individuals. Application blanks are available at the Chapter House office. These blanks must be filed no later than the first of September.

It is the desire of Mr. Harry Cullford, chairman of First Aid, to have all Industries and organizations avail themselves of this course and enroll their representatives.

It is the requirement of the National Office that all its Instructors renew their instructors training every three years. In this way the National Red Cross can keep their instructors up to the new standards of First Aid and the Chapter also is able to train new instructors in this course.

The only expense of the course is for the First Aid manual and supplies used in the class which amounts to one dollar, payable upon registration.

A William Read, once a tailor, convinced Queen Anne of England he had cured her chronic eye weakness, so the queen knighted him and he became one of the most fashionable doctors of his day.

Scrap Iron Shortage Threatens Country

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—America is threatened with a shortage of scrap iron urgently needed in the national defense program because of the recent huge exports to Japan, leaders in the steel industry declared today.

President Roosevelt's order of July 23 banning scrap iron export does not alleviate the situation, they asserted. The president's order, it was explained here, banned only the export of No. 1 grade of scrap iron while Japan's purchases are chiefly of the No. 2 grade. It was estimated that 80 per cent of Japanese exports are of the No. 2 grade.

Dangerous Situation

Furthermore, it was claimed, by mixing one-third No. 2 with two-thirds No. 1 grade, the Japanese can have the whole shipment classed as No. 2 grade and thus not subject to the presidential ban.

The situation was described as "dangerous" by Robert L. Wolcott, president of the Lukens Steel Co. of Coatsville, Pa., who is chairman of the independent producers' scrap committee.

"We are using nearly 4,000,000 tons of scrap iron a month in our own plants and we have only a 6-week supply on hand," said Wolcott. "That's dangerous. Why penalize our own industry? The government ought to permit the export of all scrap iron only on license."

British purchases have also been vastly increased by war needs, further complicating the situation in this country, it was stated.

Islanders Greet Duke With Curtsy, None For Duchess

Duke Of Windsor Plans To Play Golf Today, Will Grant Press Interview

(International News Service)

HAMILTON Bermuda, Aug. 9—The Duke of Windsor stopping over briefly in Bermuda before proceeding to his post as governor of the Bahamas, planned a game of golf today after granting a scheduled interview to the press.

Capt. George Wood, his equerry, said the former British monarch and his American-born Duchess also will go on a shopping expedition in Hamilton.

Tonight the Duke and Duchess will attend a dinner party and tomorrow Governor Sir Denis Bernhard will give a cocktail party in their honor at Government house.

Capt. Wood said the couple probably will not visit the United States in the near future, especially in view of the forthcoming American elections.

At the official reception yesterday Mrs. Hastings Brooke, sister of Sir Denis and his official hostess, gave a full curtsy to the Duke but none to the Duchess who lacks the rank of Royal Highness.

Conspicuously absent from the reception was the Rt. Rev. Arthur Heber Browne, bishop of Bermuda and one-time vigorous critic of the Duke's marriage to the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore.

St. Vitus Group Honors Members

Activities Including Picnic And Social Event Are Discussed At Regular Meeting

Thursday evening, members of the Our Lady's Sodality of St. Vitus church gathered for their regular meeting in hte convent hall, at which time they honored two members of the Sodality, Charlotte Biondi and Rose Cugini, at a farewell party. The girls are leaving hte latter part of this month to join the Missionary Sisters of Sacred Heart at New Haven, Conn.

Lovely gifts were presented to the honorees who responded graciously and thanked the members. A few members of the Children of Mary Sodality of the Croton branch were presented, and gifts were also presented in behalf of this organization.

An interesting talk was given by Mother Superior at the conclusion of the presentation. A business session was held and plans were discussed for the Sodality's annual picnic to be held on August 25 at El Rio beach. Mary Chill was chosen as chairlady, and the girls have decided to gather at the church at 1 o'clock on that day.

Dainty refreshments were served by the social committee, and an entertaining program was enjoyed which included guitar and vocal selections by Mary Pia and Connie Rossano.

The next meeting will be held on September 5, when plans for a social event will be made.

Americans Subject To British Curfew

Aliens Divided Into Two Classes By English Government

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Americans, like other foreigners, find their life guided by rules in England today.

They must be at home by midnight, and they are not permitted to travel from one town to another without special permits.

Special passes, however, may be obtained by those whose work requires them to be out at late hours.

Broadly speaking, aliens are divided into two classes: those who are enemy, and those who are considered friendly or neutral. Modern "fifth column" methods have complicated this latter classification so that strict rules are necessary for all groups, although known enemy aliens have already been interned.

Americans Arrested

Two or three Americans have recently been arrested for being in prohibited areas, but they were subsequently released after a reprimand. Tyler Kent, a discharged clerk at the American Embassy, is still under arrest, however, on an unknown charge.

Few Americans have complained about the rules which are much stricter for those living outside London. Students in Edinburgh, for example, must be in their rooms by 9 o'clock.

Other rules prevent foreigners from having a bicycle, a motor vehicle, a seagoing craft, or an airplane, but exceptions are frequently made in these cases.

MALE 'SHOW-OFFS' GIVE LIFEGUARDS MOST HEADACHES

(International News Service)

WILDWOOD, N. J.—Men swimmers—and good ones, too—give seashore lifeguards the most trouble, according to Frank Hoffman, Wildwood beach ceptain.

Revealing more than twice as many men as women are saved along the Jersey coast annually, Hoffman explained: "women are less addicted to showing off—at least in the water."

"The non-swimmers and poor swimmers give us the least trouble," Hoffman asserted. "It's the fresh water experts who start from the beach as if to swim across that cause the most concern.

"Women and children give us the least bother. Most of them don't swim, and they stay close to shore bathing in the safe shallow water under the protection of the guards."

AIR SERVICE TO AFRICA ON WAY

By CHARLES MATHIEU, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—In a bid for commercial supremacy among the world's international airlines, Pan American Airways today is seeking permission to commence a weekly service from New York to San Juan, Puerto Rico and then either directly across the south Atlantic to Bolama, Africa, or by way of Para and Natal, Brazil, to the African coast.

The company's application, filed with the civil aeronautics board, says it would employ four-motored Boeing clippers of the type already in service on both the north Atlantic and Pacific, and that it would extend the service from Bolama to Capetown as soon as the neutrality act permitted operation in British territory.

The flying distance from New York to Puerto Rico is 1,610 miles and the direct route from there to Bolama is 3,390 miles, according to the application. This distance is considerably longer than any nonstop flight now being made by Pan American's clippers.

Scrap Iron Shortage Threatens Country

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—America is threatened with a shortage of scrap iron urgently needed in the national defense program because of the recent huge exports to Japan, leaders in the steel industry declared today.

President Roosevelt's order of July 23 banning scrap iron export does not alleviate the situation, they asserted. The president's order, it was explained here, banned only the export of No. 1 grade of scrap iron while Japan's purchases are chiefly of the No. 2 grade. It was estimated that 80 per cent of Japanese exports are of the No. 2 grade.

Dangerous Situation

Furthermore, it was claimed, by mixing one-third No. 2 with two-thirds No. 1 grade, the Japanese can have the whole shipment classed as No. 2 grade and thus not subject to the presidential ban.

The situation was described as "dangerous" by Robert L. Wolcott, president of the Lukens Steel Co. of Coatsville, Pa., who is chairman of the independent producers' scrap committee.

"We are using nearly 4,000,000 tons of scrap iron a month in our own plants and we have only a 6-week supply on hand," said Wolcott. "That's dangerous. Why penalize our own industry? The government ought to permit the export of all scrap iron only on license."

British purchases have also been vastly increased by war needs, further complicating the situation in this country, it was stated.

Duke Of Windsor Plans To Play Golf Today, Will Grant Press Interview

(International News Service)

HAMILTON Bermuda, Aug. 9—The Duke of Windsor stopping over briefly in Bermuda before proceeding to his post as governor of the Bahamas, planned a game of golf today after granting a scheduled interview to the press.

Capt. George Wood, his equerry, said the former British monarch and his American-born Duchess also will go on a shopping expedition in Hamilton.

Tonight the Duke and Duchess will attend a dinner party and tomorrow Governor Sir Denis Bernhard will give a cocktail party in their honor at Government house.

Capt. Wood said the couple probably will not visit the United States in the near future, especially in view of the forthcoming American elections.

At the official reception yesterday Mrs. Hastings Brooke, sister of Sir Denis and his official hostess, gave a full curtsy to the Duke but none to the Duchess who lacks the rank of Royal Highness.

Conspicuously absent from the reception was the Rt. Rev. Arthur Heber Browne, bishop of Bermuda and one-time vigorous critic of the Duke's marriage to the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore.

St. Vitus Group Honors Members

Activities Including Picnic And Social Event Are Discussed At Regular Meeting

Thursday evening, members of the Our Lady's Sodality of St. Vitus church gathered for their regular meeting in hte convent hall, at which time they honored two members of the Sodality, Charlotte Biondi and Rose Cugini, at a farewell party. The girls are leaving hte latter part of this month to join the Missionary Sisters of Sacred Heart at New Haven, Conn.

Lovely gifts were presented to the honorees who responded graciously and thanked the members. A few members of the Children of Mary Sodality of the Croton branch were presented, and gifts were also presented in behalf of this organization.

An interesting talk was given by Mother Superior at the conclusion of the presentation. A business session was held and plans were discussed for the Sodality's annual picnic to be held on August 25 at El Rio beach. Mary Chill was chosen as chairlady, and the girls have decided to gather at the church at 1 o'clock on that day.

Dainty refreshments were served by the social committee, and an entertaining program was enjoyed which included guitar and vocal selections by Mary Pia and Connie Rossano.

The next meeting will be held on September 5, when plans for a social event will be made.

Americans Subject To British Curfew

Aliens Divided Into Two Classes By English Government

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Americans, like other foreigners, find their life guided by rules in England today.

They must be at home by midnight, and they are not permitted to travel from one town to another without special permits.

Special passes, however, may be obtained by those whose work requires them to be out at late hours.

Broadly speaking, aliens are divided into two classes: those who are enemy, and those who are considered friendly or neutral. Modern "fifth column" methods have complicated this latter classification so that strict rules are necessary for all groups, although known enemy aliens have already been interned.

No Peace Offers British Declare

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Germany has made no peace proposals to Great Britain, nor any proposals for effective guarantees for peace, R. A. Butler, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs told the house of commons on Thursday.

There were 42,900,000 motor vehicles, registered in the world in 1938, and of these 29,210,000 were in the United States, or about 68 percent.

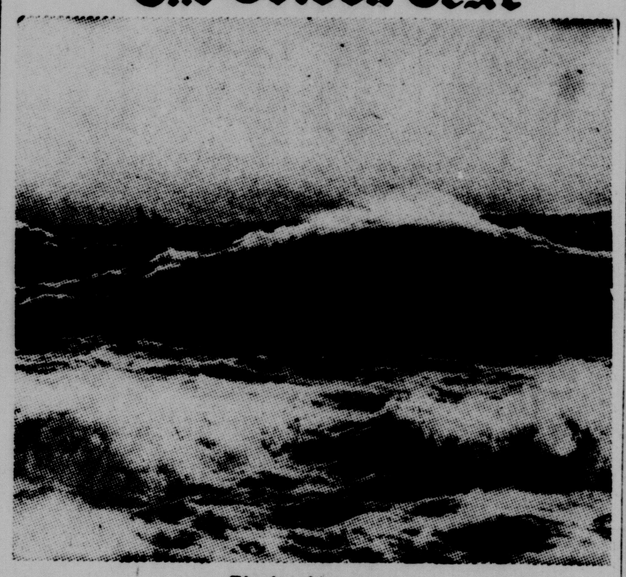
The Works And The Word Of God

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



The breaking wave

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock and my Redeemer."—Ps. 19:14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 11 is Psalm 19, the Golden Text being Psalm 19:14, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock, and my Redeemer.)

The Psalms are said to be the Jewish hymnbook—an anthology of sacred poetry, dating back over a thousand years. David probably wrote them early in life, says an authority, possibly 1050 B. C. The 19th psalm, which is the subject of today's lesson, cannot be identified with any particular location.

The 19th psalm is one of the most beautiful in the Old Testament, and I would recommend that it be learned by heart, if possible. It will comfort, encourage and help you all your life.

The first part is a revelation of God's greatness in his works:

"The heavens declare the glory of God:
And the firmament showeth
His handiwork."

No one who has stood under the clear night sky, with millions of stars shining overhead and perhaps the moon rising to dim the stars, but has felt awed at the might and majesty of the spectacle and marveled at and worshiped the Creator of such wonders. The more we study the earth's structure and the working of the universe, the more do we wonder at its scope and functioning. As the psalmist says:

"Day unto day uttereth speech,
And night unto night showeth knowledge.
There is no speech nor language,
Where their voice is not heard.
Their line is gone out through all the earth,
And their words to the end of the world.
In them hath He set a tabernacle for the sun,
Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
And rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.
His going forth is from the end of the heaven,
And his circuit unto the ends
of it;
And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof."

Reveals Glories of Creator

The message of the universe continues to tell us of the glories of its Maker. Night and day proclam it. No difference of language or customs of earth's people can conceal this wonder. It "is gone out through all the earth." We feel the beauty, the grandeur and mystery of it in the Arctic or Antarctic, in the tropical heat and amazing verdure of Africa, in the abundance and beauty of the temperate zone, in the semi-tropical countries which would seem like heaven if it were not for the cruelty and sinfulness of what we call the greatest of God's creation—man. Nothing "is hid from the heat thereof."

The second part of the psalm turns to God's written word. His laws, which, if man followed them, would truly make this earth a paradise.

"The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul:
The testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.
The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart:
The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.
The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever:
The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.
More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold;
Sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
Moreover by them is Thy servant warned;
In keeping of them there is great reward."

If we could only live by those laws, being strong to withstand temptations, our lives would be so happy. The reward would, indeed, be more desirable than gold—this world's riches—sweeter also than the sweetest and purest of honey. In keeping the Lord's laws His servant is greatly rewarded.

Then the psalmist prays to be kept from faults and sins that even he may not recognize; for

"Who can discern his errors?
Clear Thou me from hidden faults.
Keep back Thy servant also from presumptuous sins;
Let them not have dominion over me:"

If this can only be accomplished, then "shall I be clear from great transgression."

And finally the psalmist prays that he may find favor in the Lord's sight. In beautiful language he begs:

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable in Thy sight,
O Jehovah, my rock, and my Redeemer."

Let us make these words our constant prayer and we need have no fear of what life may bring us.

No Peace Offers British Declare

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Germany has made no peace proposals to Great Britain, nor any proposals for effective guarantees for peace, R. A. Butler, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs told the house of commons on Thursday.

Butler's statement was in a written answer to an interpellation by a member of commons. It carried the full weight of a government statement, since Butler would be regarded as a cabinet spokesman under the circumstances.

There were 42,900,000 motor vehicles, registered in the world in 1938, and of these 29,210,000 were in the United States, or about 68 percent.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The breaking wave

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock and my Redeemer."—Ps. 19:14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 11 is Psalm 19, the Golden Text being Psalm 19:14, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock, and my Redeemer.)

The Psalms are said to be the Jewish hymnbook—an anthology of sacred poetry, dating back over a thousand years. David probably wrote them early in life, says an authority, possibly 1050 B. C. The 19th psalm, which is the subject of today's lesson, cannot be identified with any particular location.

The 19th psalm is one of the most beautiful in the Old Testament, and I would recommend that it be learned by heart, if possible. It will comfort, encourage and help you all your life.

The first part is a revelation of God's greatness in his works:

"The heavens declare the glory of God;
And the firmament showeth His handiwork."

No one who has stood under the clear night sky, with millions of stars shining overhead and perhaps the moon rising to dim the stars, but has felt awed at the might and majesty of the spectacle and marveled at and worshiped the Creator of such wonders. The more we study the earth's structure and the working of the universe, the more do we wonder at its scope and functioning. As the psalmist says:

"Day unto day uttereth speech,
And night unto night showeth knowledge.
There is no speech nor language,
Where their voice is not heard.
Their line is gone out through all the earth,
And their words to the end of the world.
In them hath He set a tabernacle for the sun,
Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
And rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.
His going forth is from the end of the heaven,
And his circuit unto the ends of it;
And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof."

Reveals Glories of Creator

The message of the universe continues to tell us of the glories of its Maker. Night and day proclaim it. No difference of language or customs of earth's people can conceal this wonder. It "is gone out through all the earth." We feel the beauty, the grandeur and mystery of it in the Arctic or Antarctic, in the tropical heat and amazing verdure of Africa, in the abundance and beauty of the temperate zone, in the semi-tropical countries which would seem like heaven if it were not for the cruelty and sinfulness of what we call the greatest of God's creation—man. Nothing "is hid from the heat thereof."

The second part of the psalm turns to God's written word. His laws, which, if man followed them, would truly make this earth a paradise.

"The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul:
The testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.
The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart:
The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.
The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever:
The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.
More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold;
Sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
Moreover by them is Thy servant warned;
In keeping of them there is great reward."

If we could only live by those laws, being strong to withstand temptations, our lives would be so happy. The reward would, indeed, be more desirable than gold—this world's riches—sweeter also than the sweetest and purest of honey. In keeping the Lord's laws His servant is greatly rewarded.

Then the psalmist prays to be kept from faults and sins that even he may not recognize; for

"Who can discern his errors?
Clear Thou me from hidden faults.
Keep back Thy servant also from presumptuous sins;
Let them not have dominion over me:"

If this can only be accomplished, then "shall I be clear from great transgression."

And finally the psalmist prays that he may find favor in the Lord's sight. In beautiful language he begs:

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable in Thy sight,
O Jehovah, my rock, and my Redeemer."

Let us make these words our constant prayer and we need have no fear of what life may bring us.

TOKYO, Aug. 9—Amid widespread signs of rising Japanese animosity against England, the East Asia Association of Tokyo today petitioned Japanese Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye to declare war against Britain.

Resurfacing Work Nearly Completed On Grandview Ave.

Place Hard Surface On Union Township Street Connecting Highways

Workmen were today pouring the last of the black top surfacing for Grandview avenue, as the work on this Union township street rapidly nears completion.

Sometime ago workmen started to resurface this street between West Washington street extension and the Youngstown road. Heretofore motorists traveling up West Washington street who desired to cross over to Route 422 would go over Scotland Lane but it is likely that most of this traffic will now use Grandview avenue.

In addition to resurfacing the street was widened and stone gutters installed along the sides.

Since we must protect the Latin Americas will be idiots to give them a dollar without binding them to do their part in a military alliance.

Dead Exceeds 100 In Italian Plant

(International News Service)

PIACENZA, Italy, Aug. 9.—Explosions in two Italian ammunition plants within the last 24 hours, at Lecco and Piacenza, threatened a death toll approaching 100 today as 45 persons critically injured were added to the 41 already dead.

In Piancenzo, where 39 were killed when two blasts destroyed the shell-loading plant of the big Fascist army ammunition plant yesterday, the total of injured rose to 519. Besides the 45 listed as critically injured, 159 were described as gravely injured.

The Lecco blast occurred today taking two lives instantly and injuring seven. Like the Piacenzo explosion, it was of unknown origin.

Military and civilian hospitals in Piacenza were crowded with wounded as General Soddu, of the Fascist militia, and high-ranking officers of the Italian artillery began an investigation. Both explosions were to be covered in the inquiry.

Ours aren't the only ones. It was July before British officials discovered they were short of aluminum and lacking motorcycles to chase parachute troops.

Urge Japan Declare War On England

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Aug. 9—Amid widespread signs of rising Japanese animosity against England, the East Asia Association of Tokyo today petitioned Japanese Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye to declare war against Britain.

Earlier 126 members of the Japanese Diet (parliament) formed a political group dedicated to abolition of British power in the Far East.

The group adopted a resolution to "expedite establishment of a new structure to drive British influence out of East Asia."

Chest Board Meets Again Monday Night

Ignoring the heat, the New Castle Community Chest board of directors will gather in the Pennsylvania Power building Monday, August 12, at 7:30 p. m. to discuss the 1940 Chest drive in October.

The full campaign organization may be ready for announcement that night, President Alec Samuels said.

We aren't cured till we face the facts—including the fact that we were silly to regard New York's clever Red writers as the voice of America or God.

Resurfacing Work Nearly Completed On Grandview Ave.

Place Hard Surface On Union Township Street Connecting Highways

Workmen were today pouring the last of the black top surfacing for Grandview avenue, as the work on this Union township street rapidly nears completion.

Sometime ago workmen started to resurface this street between West Washington street extension and the Youngstown road. Heretofore motorists traveling up West Washington street who desired to cross over to Route 422 would go over Scotland Lane but it is likely that most of this traffic will now use Grandview avenue.

In addition to resurfacing the street was widened and stone gutters installed along the sides.

Since we must protect the Latin Americas will be idiots to give them a dollar without binding them to do their part in a military alliance.

Washington thinks England will hold out. We'd be working night shifts and training conscripts if we knew England would be wiped out next week.

Dead Exceeds 100 In Italian Plant

(International News Service)

PIACENZA, Italy, Aug. 9.—Explosions in two Italian ammunition plants within the last 24 hours, at Lecco and Piacenza, threatened a death toll approaching 100 today as 45 persons critically injured were added to the 41 already dead.

In Piancenzo, where 39 were killed when two blasts destroyed the shell-loading plant of the big Fascist army ammunition plant yesterday, the total of injured rose to 519. Besides the 45 listed as critically injured, 159 were described as gravely injured.

The Lecco blast occurred today taking two lives instantly and injuring seven. Like the Piacenzo explosion, it was of unknown origin.

Military and civilian hospitals in Piacenza were crowded with wounded as General Soddu, of the Fascist militia, and high-ranking officers of the Italian artillery began an investigation. Both explosions were to be covered in the inquiry.

Ours aren't the only ones. It was July before British officials discovered they were short of aluminum and lacking motorcycles to chase parachute troops.

Lady Winn Sets New Pace Mark

Mercer Horse Paces Mile In 2:05 3-4 At Fair Grounds Track

BERT OAKEY HAD EQUALLED 1939 MARK

Lady Winn, owned by the Moon and Parish stable of Mercer and driven by Cummins, Thursday afternoon, at the New Castle Fair track set a new pace record of 2:05¾ in the 2:10 pace. She captured the event in three consecutive heats. Previously, Bert Oakey, driven by Smith, had equalled the 1939 pace record in the 2:22 pace which Bert Oakey also took in straight heats.

Thursday saw the end of the trots and paces and this afternoon a saddle horse show will be staged at the race track. However, the racing calendar presented yesterday was worthwhile seeing. The track was good and about 1,000 witnessed the events.

Eddie C. Gratton with Maher driving finished second in all three heats while Dr. Gratton, Reynolds driving, finished fifth in the first heat and third in the last two, Cliff Lee, Sutton in the buggy, finishing third in the first heat.

The time for the first heat was 2:07½, second, 2:05¾ and third heat, 2:08¾.

Royal Scott, Second

Bert Oakey, Smith driving, won three consecutive heats in the 2:22 pace and in the second heat equalled the record which up to the time Lady Winn paced was held by Maxine, and earned in 1939. The time for the second heat was 2:06¼. Bert Oakey tried hard to beat the new track mark of 2:05¾ in the last heat but failed.

Royal Scott was driven by Joe Rick. Royal Scott finished second in all three heats while Eleanor Dale, Pepper C. Brooke and Braden Hanover finished third in the three heats, respectively. The time for the heats was 2:09½; 2:06¼ and 2:07¼.

After winning the first two heats in the 2:18 trot Ellis Dean, driven by Maher, bowed on the home stretch in the third heat to Bobby Flash. Sutton drove Bobby Flash and closed up a big gap at the three quarters pole and coming down the stretch Bobby Flash won by a head. The

Bucky Walters Wins His 16th

Keeps Reds In Front By Five Full Games Over Dodgers, Indians Split Twin Bill

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—To be 27 games out of first place in the National league race at this late date is enough to dishearten any ball club but Manager Casey Stengel and his fun-loving Boston Bees today feel such a deficit is only a minor one.

Yesterday the Beantowners shellacked the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 2, for the fourth straight time. Jim Tobin, who was out of the lineup with injuries during the early part of the campaign, outpitched Hugh (Losing Pitcher) Mulcahy and Eddie Miller cracked out his ninth homer of the year to help the Bees win. It was the eighth straight setback for the Phils.

Reds Win Again

Bucky Walters braked the temporary downfall of the Cincinnati Reds by hurling the Rhinelanders to a 3 to 1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The victory was No. 16 for the most-valuable player in the league last year. Before the game, the ball park flag was lowered to half-mast as a token of respect for Willard Hershberger, second-string Cincinnati catcher, who took his life last Saturday and who was buried in Visalia, Calif., yesterday.

Dolph Camilli's 12th homer of the season with two men on base gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 6 to 3 12th inning verdict over the New York Giants. Manager Leo Durocher sent Wesley Flowers, a rookie southpaw recently recruited from Louisville, to the hill in the eighth and Wesley blanked the Giants the rest of the way to give the Dodgers their seventh consecutive win at the Polo grounds.

Indians Split

Cleveland muffed a chance to steal the American league lead away from the idle Detroit Tigers by halvign a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns. The Indians, with Bob Feller winning his 19th decision, took the opener, 7 to 4, and dropped the nightcap, 2 to 1.

The New York Yankees relief pitching proved inadequate again yesterday and the Boston Red Sox staged a two-run ninth inning rally to capture a 6 to 5 contest. Jimmy Foxx hit his 26th homer of the current campaign for the Sox.

A rousing rally in the tenth inning enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to defeat the Washington Senators, 6 to 4. In the ninth the A's tied the contest when Pinch-Hitter Frank Hayes doubled Benny McCoy home.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis and Detroit and Chicago were not scheduled.

Ryantown-Moose Play Tie Game

Ryantown and the Moose Club played a tie game last night at Ryantown field in a city league game that was halted by darkness at the end of the fifth inning. The score was 2-2.

Johns and Owrey engaged in a hurling battle, the latter only allowing four hits, the former seven. Extra base hits were made by Miller and Chabak.

Ryantown trailed 2 to 0 going to the last of the fourth and came through with a pair of runs to dead lock the count.

Lawrence Indies To Battle Tigers

Only One Game Tonight In City Baseball League, At Lee Avenue Field

The league leading Lawrence Indies and the West Side Tigers will tangle at the Lee Avenue field at 5:45 o'clock this evening in the only City baseball league game scheduled.

Manager Tommy McCormick will start his ace Paul Morrison in an effort to defeat the rampaging Indies. The Indies according to Manager Zidow will start young Joe Wilk or Russu.

If the Indies win tonight they can practically sew up the second half championship and having won the first-half would be the league 1940 champions.

The fans will no doubt draw the biggest crowd of the year to the Lee Avenue field.

MARKY WINS FOR WEST PITTSBURG

Albert Marky's home run drive in the first of the second inning and superb three-hit pitching by Braky gave the West Pittsburg "Gas House" team a 1 to 0 victory over the Red Sox last night at Wash High field.

Lefty Minner was the hurling victim, the lanky New Wilmington boy granting but two hits, but one was a home run ball served to Marky. He fanned six batters. Braky had five strikeouts.

West Pittsburg battles the Lawrence Indies next Sunday at the West Pittsburg field in what should be a crackerjack ball game.

Sizzling notes—Reports reaching this bureau state that New Castle High's grid premier may be spoiled by Grove City High. The neighboring institution is, literally, overflowing with material—the veteran variety. Grove City will have one of its best juggernauts. The Grovers, however, received a damaging blow when their pilot, Joe Hartman, decided to move his luggage to Franklin High. . . .

From New Wilmington way comes information that the U. S. Army has lured a pair of stellar Westminster pigskin artists. Bill Roufle, senior captain and guard, has signed a contract with the army air corps. Harry Shoup, ex-Bessemer High star and listed as Westminster's standout kicker, has also enlisted for air duty. A confirmation or denial would be appreciated by this corner. . . .

Michael "Pee Wee" DiMuccio, whose coverage of one of the end posts for New Castle High won the plaudits of fandom, not too many years back, has undergone a second operation for a right shoulder ailment. The midget athlete, one of the best wingmen in Hurricane history, was hurt sometime ago. Here's hoping the likeable athlete recovers speedily in the New Castle Hospital. . . . .

It's impossible to keep Paul "Gulliver" Minner off the sports page. As a New Wilmington High cager, Minner grabbed columns and columns of glory As a pitcher, Minner is receiving an usual number of glittering notices. He's so talented on the mound that several clubs are making eyes at him. The Butler Yanks, for one, will give the tall athlete a tryout soon. In the fall, Minner will complete his studies at New Wilmington. . . .

Diamond snapshots — Even the Yankees are willing to try anything once in the hope of shaking a disgraceful slump. Before the start of the Boston Red Sox twin bill a few days ago, the champs (?) dispensed with batting practice. And, sure enough, they won a ball game! . . . You can mark down Sid Hudson's name in your book. The ex-Class D. pegger has what spells—class. . . .

While fiddling around, a crazy idea popped up. Why not shift the Kansas City Blues to the majors and let the Yanks replace their farmhands in the American Association? The Blues are so far out in front that the Yanks could hardly blow the A. A. margin. It's a cinch Kansas City won't do any worse than the Yanks have been doing all season long. Since most of the K. C. hands figure to be wearing Yankee uniforms soon, why not a rehearsal? . . . .

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joe Provident and Ted Delarado are two of the higher-ups in amateur fistania who will appear in the Neshannock township firemen's show Monday night in the air-cooled Arena. Joe won the 147-pound championship in the Sun-Tele tourney and Delarado claims the West Virginia crown. Art Adams, also a Sun-Tele champion will meet Eddie Sullivan, a Golden Glove junior welterweight champion. Shelton Bell, Youngstown, and Babe Adams, Pittsburgh, will appear in the main bout. In all, Monday night, there will be eight bouts.

TROGGIOS WIN GAME

The Troggies defeated the Fannins last night at Butler Road Field 12 to 5 for first place in the Class B softball league. The winning hurler was Semansky, the loser was Gunther. Heavy hitters were—Sniezek, Hooker and Semansky.

Buzz Borries, Annapolis former All-American back, and Tom Hamilton, who coached him, are pilots in the naval air force.

Lisbon Bringing Strong Team Here To Battle Elders

Game At Elders Field Saturday Should Be One Of Best Attractions Of Year

In what should be the finest game of the 1940 baseball season in these parts the Elder A. C. of the City baseball league tangles Saturday afternoon at Elders Field with a strong Lisbon, Ohio semi-pro team sporting 24 wins and only one defeat for the season to date.

Manager Joe O'Leary is looking for the biggest crowd of the year to pack the popular Elders field and in the event of good weather there will be several thousand fans on hand.

With the Lisbon team coming here will be two very familiar figures in the baseball realms of New Castle—Dory Gunnett veteran pitcher and Mickey Huff veteran second-sacker. Both New Castle boys have played a big part in the success of the Lisbon team.

Manager O'Leary has secured two or three players to add a little strength to the Elders, but for the biggest part of the game the Elders will use their regular lineup. Paul Morrison may take the hill, for the Elders, it was understood. O'Leary may have Hen Koszela ace Lawrence Indies outfielder and hitter in the lineup along with Sovesky the Indies catcher.

It is not known whether or not the Lisbon manager will send Dory against his city league team mates or whether it will be Jack Sharkey who will get the hurling nod.

WEST SIDE PIRATES

Lady Winn Sets New Pace Mark

Mercer Horse Paces Mile In 2:05 3-4 At Fair Grounds Track

BERT OAKEY HAD EQUALLED 1939 MARK

Lady Winn, owned by the Moon and Parish stable of Mercer and driven by Cummins, Thursday afternoon, at the New Castle Fair track set a new pace record of 2:05¾ in the 2:10 pace. She captured the event in three consecutive heats. Previously, Bert Oakey, driven by Smith, had equalled the 1939 pace record in the 2:22 pace which Bert Oakey also took in straight heats.

Thursday saw the end of the trots and paces and this afternoon a saddle horse show will be staged at the race track. However, the racing calendar presented yesterday was worthwhile seeing. The track was good and about 1,000 witnessed the events.

Eddie C. Gratton with Maher driving finished second in all three heats while Dr. Gratton, Reynolds driving, finished fifth in the first heat and third in the last two, Cliff Lee, Sutton in the buggy, finishing third in the first heat.

The time for the first heat was 2:07½, second, 2:05¾ and third heat, 2:08¾.

Royal Scott, Second

Bert Oakey, Smith driving, won three consecutive heats in the 2:22 pace and in the second heat equalled the record which up to the time Lady Winn paced was held by Maxine, and earned in 1939. The time for the second heat was 2:06½. Bert Oakey tried hard to beat the new track mark of 2:05¾ in the last heat but failed.

Royal Scott was driven by Joe Rick. Royal Scott finished second in all three heats while Eleanor Dale, Pepper C. Brooke and Braden Hanover finished third in the three heats, respectively. The time for the heats was 2:09½; 2:06¼ and 2:07½.

After winning the first two heats in the 2:18 trot Ellis Dean, driven by Maher, bowed on the home stretch in the third heat to Bobby Flash. Sutton drove Bobby Flash and closed up a big gap at the three quarters pole and coming down the stretch Bobby Flash won by a head. The

Keeps Reds In Front By Five Full Games Over Dodgers, Indians Split Twin Bill

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—To be 27 games out of first place in the National league race at this late date is enough to dishearten any ball club but Manager Casey Stengel and his fun-loving Boston Bees today feel such a deficit is only a minor one.

Yesterday the Beantowners shellacked the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 2, for the fourth straight time. Jim Tobin, who was out of the lineup with injuries during the early part of the campaign, outpitched Hugh (Losing Pitcher) Mulcahy and Eddie Miller cracked out his ninth homer of the year to help the Bees win. It was the eighth straight setback for the Phils.

Reds Win Again

Bucky Walters braked the temporary downfall of the Cincinnati Reds by hurling the Rhinelanders to a 3 to 1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The victory was No. 16 for the most-valuable player in the league last year. Before the game, the ball park flag was lowered to half-mast as a token of respect for Willard Hershberger, second-string Cincinnati catcher, who took his life last Saturday and who was buried in Visalia, Calif., yesterday.

Dolph Camilli's 12th homer of the season with two men on base gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 6 to 3 12th inning verdict over the New York Giants. Manager Leo Durocher sent Wesley Flowers, a rookie southpaw recently recruited from Louisville, to the hill in the eighth and Wesley blanked the Giants the rest of the way to give the Dodgers their seventh consecutive win at the Polo grounds.

Indians Split

Cleveland muffed a chance to steal the American league lead away from the idle Detroit Tigers by halvign a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns. The Indians, with Bob Feller winning his 19th decision, took the opener, 7 to 4, and dropped the nightcap, 2 to 1.

The New York Yankees relief pitching proved inadequate again yesterday and the Boston Red Sox staged a two-run ninth inning rally to capture a 6 to 5 contest. Jimmy Foxx hit his 26th homer of the current campaign for the Sox.

A rousing rally in the tenth inning enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to defeat the Washington Senators, 6 to 4. In the ninth the A's tied the contest when Pinch-Hitter Frank Hayes doubled Benny McCoy home.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis and Detroit and Chicago were not scheduled.

Ryantown-Moose Play Tie Game

Ryantown and the Moose Club played a tie game last night at Ryantown field in a city league game that was halted by darkness at the end of the fifth inning. The score was 2-2.

Johns and Owrey engaged in a hurling battle, the latter only allowing four hits, the former seven. Extra base hits were made by Miller and Chabak.

Ryantown trailed 2 to 0 going to the last of the fourth and came through with a pair of runs to dead lock the count.

Lawrence Indies To Battle Tigers

Only One Game Tonight In City Baseball League, At Lee Avenue Field

The league leading Lawrence Indies and the West Side Tigers will tangle at the Lee Avenue field at 5:45 o'clock this evening in the only City baseball league game scheduled.

Manager Tommy McCormick will start his ace Paul Morrison in an effort to defeat the rampaging Indies. The Indies according to Manager Zidow will start young Joe Wilk or Russu.

If the Indies win tonight they can practically sew up the second half championship and having won the first-half would be the league 1940 champions.

The fans will no doubt draw the biggest crowd of the year to the Lee Avenue field.

MARKY WINS FOR WEST PITTSBURG

Albert Marky's home run drive in the first of the second inning and superb three-hit pitching by Braky gave the West Pittsburg "Gas House" team a 1 to 0 victory over the Red Sox last night at Wash High field.

Lefty Minner was the hurling victim, the lanky New Wilmington boy granting but two hits, but one was a home run ball served to Marky. He fanned six batters. Braky had five strikeouts.

West Pittsburg battles the Lawrence Indies next Sunday at the West Pittsburg field in what should be a crackerjack ball game.

Sports World Ramblings

Sizzling notes—Reports reaching this bureau state that New Castle High's grid premier may be spoiled by Grove City High. The neighboring institution is, literally, overflowing with material—the veteran variety. Grove City will have one of its best juggernauts. The Grovers, however, received a damaging blow when their pilot, Joe Hartman, decided to move his luggage to Franklin High. . . .

From New Wilmington way comes information that the U. S. Army has lured a pair of stellar Westminster pigskin artists. Bill Roufle, senior captain and guard, has signed a contract with the army air corps. Harry Shoup, ex-Bessemer High star and listed as Westminster's standout kicker, has also enlisted for air duty. A confirmation or denial would be appreciated by this corner. . . .

Michael "Pee Wee" DiMuccio, whose coverage of one of the end posts for New Castle High won the plaudits of fandom, not too many years back, has undergone a second operation for a right shoulder ailment. The midget athlete, one of the best wingmen in Hurricane history, was hurt sometime ago. Here's hoping the likeable athlete recovers speedily in the New Castle Hospital. . . .

It's impossible to keep Paul "Gulliver" Minner off the sports page. As a New Wilmington High cager, Minner grabbed columns and columns of glory As a pitcher, Minner is receiving an usual number of glittering notices. He's so talented on the mound that several clubs are making eyes at him. The Butler Yanks, for one, will give the tall athlete a tryout soon. In the fall, Minner will complete his studies at New Wilmington. . . .

Diamond snapshots — Even the Yankees are willing to try anything once in the hope of shaking a disgraceful slump. Before the start of the Boston Red Sox twin bill a few days ago, the champs (?) dispensed with batting practice. And, sure enough, they won a ball game! . . . You can mark down Sid Hudson's name in your book. The ex-Class D. pegger has what spells—class. . . .

While fiddling around, a crazy idea popped up. Why not shift the Kansas City Blues to the majors and let the Yanks replace their farmhands in the American Association? The Blues are so far out in front that the Yanks could hardly blow the A. A. margin. It's a cinch Kansas City won't do any worse than the Yanks have been doing all season long. Since most of the K. C. hands figure to be wearing Yankee uniforms soon, why not a rehearsal? . . . .

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joe Provident and Ted Delarado are two of the higher-ups in amateur fistania who will appear in the Neshannock township firemen's show Monday night in the air-cooled Arena. Joe won the 147-pound championship in the Sun-Tele tourney and Delarado claims the West Virginia crown. Art Adams, also a Sun-Tele champion will meet Eddie Sullivan, a Golden Glove junior welterweight champion. Shelton Bell, Youngstown, and Babe Adams, Pittsburgh, will appear in the main bout. In all, Monday night, there will be eight bouts.

Lisbon Bringing Strong Team Here To Battle Elders

Game At Elders Field Saturday Should Be One Of Best Attractions Of Year

In what should be the finest game of the 1940 baseball season in these parts the Elder A. C. of the City baseball league tangles Saturday afternoon at Elders Field with a strong Lisbon, Ohio semi-pro team sporting 24 wins and only one defeat for the season to date.

Manager Joe O'Leary is looking for the biggest crowd of the year to pack the popular Elders field and in the event of good weather there will be several thousand fans on hand.

With the Lisbon team coming here will be two very familiar figures in the baseball realms of New Castle—Dory Gunnett veteran pitcher and Mickey Huff veteran second-sacker. Both New Castle boys have played a big part in the success of the Lisbon team.

Manager O'Leary has secured two or three players to add a little strength to the Elders, but for the biggest part of the game the Elders will use their regular lineup. Paul Morrison may take the hill, for the Elders, it was understood. O'Leary may have Hen Koszela ace Lawrence Indies outfielder and hitter in the lineup along with Sovesky the Indies catcher.

It is not known whether or not the Lisbon manager will send Dory against his city league team mates or whether it will be Jack Sharkey who will get the hurling nod.

Protest Delay Of WPA Paving

Citizens Also Complain Coal Tipple Being Erected Will Constitute Nuisance

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 9.—Numerous petitions and complaints concerning various properties and streets were the chief concern of the Ellwood City Boro Council at their regular meeting in the city hall rooms last evening. Only President Green, A. J. Howells, City Solicitor J. W. Humphrey, Nick Lanzi, G. Ziegler, Lowell Monroe and councilmen Biordi and Curry were present. No definite action was taken on any question as all matters were deemed transferable to the street committee and borough manager.

Councilman Lanzi called for a roll call concerning the accepting of the minutes and contended that they should be more complete. The minutes, however, were moved accepted as read.

The complaint raised concerning the length of time it has taken the W.P.A. to start work on the paving of Clover avenue was referred to the street committee. Councilman Green explained that it was his understanding that each street must be completed in the order in which it came into the W.P.A. project list.

The closing of the continuation of 6th street where the old bridge abutments are located in order to make a larger place for the children of that district to play was advocated. This was also ordered to be investigated by the street committee.

Special attention was called to the condition of a street and adjoining properties at Summit avenue, Hill street, Fifth street, and Sixth street in Beaver county. A coal tipple is here being erected which citizens complain is becoming a nuisance. It was recommended that the owner be served notice at once if this were true.

A dangerous roadway condition caused by a faulty retaining wall on Wampum avenue was called to the attention of the councilmen. An obstruction placed there by the city was asked to be moved from an alley-way of a Joffrey street extension.

In order that the Mayflower lunch at Wampum avenue and 5th street bridge may extend its property, the request that the storm sewer there be extended was considered by council and referred for immediate action to the street committee.

Further business consisted of the granting of the fire trucks, at the request of the Volunteer Fire department, for two parades: one, Saturday, August 24 at Farrel, the other, Saturday, August 30, at Stoneboro. A. J. Howells further recommended for discussion the adjustment of the salaries of truck drivers and laborers employed in borough projects. It was his contention that these men are underpaid.

Panama Revolt Threat Averted

United States Army Officer Talks Rebellious Factions

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—A dramatic account of how a high-ranking American Army officer apparently prevented a revolution in Panama and saved the new Panamanian president from assassination was furnished today by Rep. C. Arthur Anderson (D) Missouri.

Anderson said that Maj. Gen. David L. Stone, former commandant of the army garrison in the Canal Zone, managed to dissuade a rebellious political faction from seizing the Panama government soon after the death of President J. D. Arosemena two months ago. The faction also plotted the death of Augusto S. Boyd, vice president and ambassador to Washington, who succeeded Arosemena, according to Anderson.

Stone, who is now commandant of the Fifth Corps Area at Columbus, Ohio, refused to comment on Anderson's story.

Statement Refused

"I feel it would be inappropriate and am unable to make any statement regarding the subject," Stone told International News Service. "All in Panama are friends with whom I worked for three years."

Neither the State Department nor the Panamanian Embassy had any information to verify Anderson's story.

Anderson gave the first details of the reported incident in a statement printed in the Congressional record earlier this month.

"Upon the death of Arosemena a strong faction was plotting an uprising to prevent Boyd from assuming the presidency," Anderson said. "Boyd was hurrying to Panama by plane from the United States at the time, and conditions were ripe for serious trouble in Panama.

"Fortunately the persons seeking to deprive Boyd of the Presidency decided to consult with General Stone.

"The General talked to them as a father would to a sick child. He told them that they and their constitutional government were on trial before the whole world; that their actions would show whether democracy in Central America would live or die. . . .

"The General spent many hours with these hot-blooded Latins who had it in their power to throw the country into revolution.

"When he departed in the late hours of the night he had soothed their feelings and brought them around to his way, and the right way, of thinking. In plain words, he prevented a revolution in Panama and restored good will all around."

Anderson told International News Service that he obtained his information while in Panama recently. He said he was an old friend of Stone's but insisted that the information did not come from the General.

SAILED 250,000 MILES BUT NEVER CROSSED OCEAN

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Skipper John J. McCabe has traveled more than 250,000 miles over salt water—without once crossing an ocean.

Capt. McCabe's skippering has been confined to piloting a ferryboat back and forth across the Hudson river for the past 34 years. And he recently celebrated his 250,000th crossing by receiving official congratulations and a plaque.

The captain said that he makes 22 trips a day and has never been on an ocean line. And he denied that he has ever had the temptation to turn his awkward craft off its course and head down the river for the South Sea islands.

"I have a wife waiting for me on the Jersey side," he said.

Protest Delay Of WPA Paving

Citizens Also Complain Coal Tipple Being Erected Will Constitute Nuisance

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 9.—Numerous petitions and complaints concerning various properties and streets were the chief concern of the Ellwood City Boro Council at their regular meeting in the city hall rooms last evening. Only President Green, A. J. Howells, City Solicitor J. W. Humphrey, Nick Lanzi, G. Ziegler, Lowell Monroe and councilmen Biordi and Curry were present. No definite action was taken on any question as all matters were deemed transferable to the street committee and borough manager.

Councilman Lanzi called for a roll call concerning the accepting of the minutes and contended that they should be more complete. The minutes, however, were moved accepted as read.

The complaint raised concerning the length of time it has taken the W.P.A. to start work on the paving of Clover avenue was referred to the street committee. Councilman Green explained that it was his understanding that each street must be completed in the order in which it came into the W.P.A. project list.

The closing of the continuation of 6th street where the old bridge abutments are located in order to make a larger place for the children of that district to play was advocated. This was also ordered to be investigated by the street committee.

Special attention was called to the condition of a street and adjoining properties at Summit avenue, Hill street, Fifth street, and Sixth street in Beaver county. A coal tipple is here being erected which citizens complain is becoming a nuisance. It was recommended that the owner be served notice at once if this were true.

A dangerous roadway condition caused by a faulty retaining wall on Wampum avenue was called to the attention of the councilmen. An obstruction placed there by the city was asked to be moved from an alley-way of a Joffrey street extension.

In order that the Mayflower lunch at Wampum avenue and 5th street bridge may extend its property, the request that the storm sewer there be extended was considered by council and referred for immediate action to the street committee.

Further business consisted of the granting of the fire trucks, at the request of the Volunteer Fire department, for two parades: one, Saturday, August 24 at Farrel, the other, Saturday, August 30, at Stoneboro. A. J. Howells further recommended for discussion the adjustment of the salaries of truck drivers and laborers employed in borough projects. It was his contention that these men are underpaid.

Panama Revolt Threat Averted

United States Army Officer Talks Rebellious Factions

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—A dramatic account of how a high-ranking American Army officer apparently prevented a revolution in Panama and saved the new Panamanian president from assassination was furnished today by Rep. C. Arthur Anderson (D) Missouri.

Anderson said that Maj. Gen. David L. Stone, former commandant of the army garrison in the Canal Zone, managed to dissuade a rebellious political faction from seizing the Panama government soon after the death of President J. D. Arosemena two months ago. The faction also plotted the death of Augusto S. Boyd, vice president and ambassador to Washington, who succeeded Arosemena, according to Anderson.

Stone, who is now commandant of the Fifth Corps Area at Columbus, Ohio, refused to comment on Anderson's story.

Statement Refused

"I feel it would be inappropriate and am unable to make any statement regarding the subject." Stone told International News Service. "All in Panama are friends with whom I worked for three years."

Neither the State Department nor the Panamanian Embassy had any information to verify Anderson's story.

Anderson gave the first details of the reported incident in a statement printed in the Congressional record earlier this month.

"Upon the death of Arosemena a strong faction was plotting an uprising to prevent Boyd from assuming the presidency," Anderson said. "Boyd was hurrying to Panama by plane from the United States at the time, and conditions were ripe for serious trouble in Panama.

"Fortunately the persons seeking to deprive Boyd of the Presidency decided to consult with General Stone.

"The General talked to them as a father would to a sick child. He told them that they and their constitutional government were on trial before the whole world; that their actions would show whether democracy in Central America would live or die. . . .

"The General spent many hours with these hot-blooded Latins who had it in their power to throw the country into revolution.

"When he departed in the late hours of the night he had soothed their feelings and brought them around to his way and the right way, of thinking. In plain words, he prevented a revolution in Panama and restored good will all around."

Anderson told International News Service that he obtained his information while in Panama recently. He said he was an old friend of Stone's but insisted that the information did not come from the General.

SAILED 250,000 MILES BUT NEVER CROSSED OCEAN

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Skipper John J. McCabe has traveled more than 250,000 miles over salt water—without once crossing an ocean.

Capt. McCabe's skippering has been confined to piloting a ferryboat back and forth across the Hudson river for the past 34 years. And he recently celebrated his 250,000th crossing by receiving official congratulations and a plaque.

The captain said that he makes 22 trips a day and has never been on an ocean line. And he denied that he has ever had the temptation to turn his awkward craft off its course and head down the river for the South Sea islands.

"I have a wife waiting for me on the Jersey side," he said.

FROM ME TO YOU

By Mr. SEEALL

Lawrence County is a great county . . . that is the way we feel about it . . . and we hope that a lot of you folks feel the same way. In years gone by the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association have sponsored farm tours for the farmers of Lawrence and Beaver Counties . . . they have taken these farmers over into Ohio to show them prize farms . . . now this year the annual tour is scheduled for farms in Lawrence County . . . we are glad to see this as we think some of the finest farms in county lie right here within twenty miles of New Castle. The tour will be held next Tuesday, August 13th . . . and may we add, if any of you city folks ever get the opportunity to make a farm tour . . . be sure to go . . . you will see things that you have never seen before.

Next Wednesday will be known as Old Timers Day in New Castle . . . Cascade Park will be filled with folks who did their bit in making New Castle. As a special feature all couples who have been married fifty years will be honored. The committee in charge would like to have as many young folks, (kin to the old timers), as possible attend . . . so until next Wednesday, and Old Timers Day.

A present was brought into our office this morning . . . it is a tomato plant . . . grown entirely through the use of sand and chemicals. A special mixture of chemicals has been used . . . including the following . . . Monopotassium Phosphate, Calcium Nitrate, Magnesium Sulphate, Ammonium Sulphate, Boric Acid, Manganese Sulphate, Zinc Sulphate, Copper Sulphate and Iron Chloride . . . The proper mixture for these parts will be published as soon as we get the low-down from the donor of the plant . . . About thirty tomatoes adorn this sturdy plant . . . it is on display in the lobby of The NEWS.

We have a few more addresses for dogs . . . remember these dogs are to be given away and we in no way want to compete with those who have dogs for sale. These dogs cannot be guaranteed.

Mrs. E. H. Park, 923 W. Clayton St. . . . Fox terrier, two years old, black and white female. If you can yive this doy a yood home then act at once.

Mrs. Markles, 217 E. Long Ave. Phone 1118-W . . . Fox terrier, 2 months old, female.

418 Lyndal St. . . . Black female Spitz. A very nice dog.

FROM ME TO YOU

By McSEALL

Lawrence County is a great county . . . that is the way we feel about it . . . and we hope that a lot of you folks feel the same way. In years gone by the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association have sponsored farm tours for the farmers of Lawrence and Beaver Counties . . . they have taken these farmers over into Ohio to show them prize farms . . . now this year the annual tour is scheduled for farms in Lawrence County . . . we are glad to see this as we think some of the finest farms in county lie right here within twenty miles of New Castle. The tour will be held next Tuesday, August 13th . . . and may we add, if any of you city folks ever get the opportunity to make a farm tour . . . be sure to go . . . you will see things that you have never seen before.

Next Wednesday will be known as Old Timers Day in New Castle . . . Cascade Park will be filled with folks who did their bit in making New Castle. As a special feature all couples who have been married fifty years will be honored. The committee in charge would like to have as many young folks, (kin to the old timers), as possible attend . . . so until next Wednesday, and Old Timers Day.

* * *

A present was brought into our office this morning . . . it is a tomato plant . . . grown entirely through the use of sand and chemicals. A special mixture of chemicals has been used . . . including the following . . . Monopotassium Phosphate, Calcium Nitrate, Magnesium Sulphate, Ammonium Sulphate, Boric Acid, Manganese Sulphate, Zinc Sulphate, Copper Sulphate and Iron Chloride . . . The proper mixture for these parts will be published as soon as we get the low-down from the donor of the plant . . . About thirty tomatoes adorn this sturdy plant . . . it is on display in the lobby of The NEWS.

We have a few more addresses for dogs . . . remember these dogs are to be given away and we in no way want to compete with those who have dogs for sale. These dogs cannot be guaranteed.

Mrs. E. H. Park, 923 W. Clayton St. . . . Fox terrier, two years old, black and white female. If you can give this doy a good home then act at once.

Mrs. Markles, 217 E. Long Ave. Phone 1118-W . . . Fox terrier, 2 months old, female.

418 Lyndal St. . . . Black female Spitz. A very nice dog.

Invited to Fight

Richard Greene

A bid to Richard Greene, Hollywood actor, to enlist was extended by Col. Ronald Kingham, commander of the 16th Scottish Regiment, who accused Greene of "using the Canadian Army for publicity." Kingham declared Greene had applied for a commission to the only army unit which was not recruiting, and had shunned those looking for men.

Senator James Byrnes (D.) of South Carolina has declared before the senate that "corporation friends" of Willkie were coercing employes to contribute to the Republican campaign fund.

Invited to Fight

Richard Greene

A bid to Richard Greene, Hollywood actor, to enlist was extended by Col. Ronald Kingham, commander of the 16th Scottish Regiment, who accused Greene of "using the Canadian Army for publicity." Kingham declared Greene had applied for a commission to the only army unit which was not recruiting, and had shunned those looking for men.

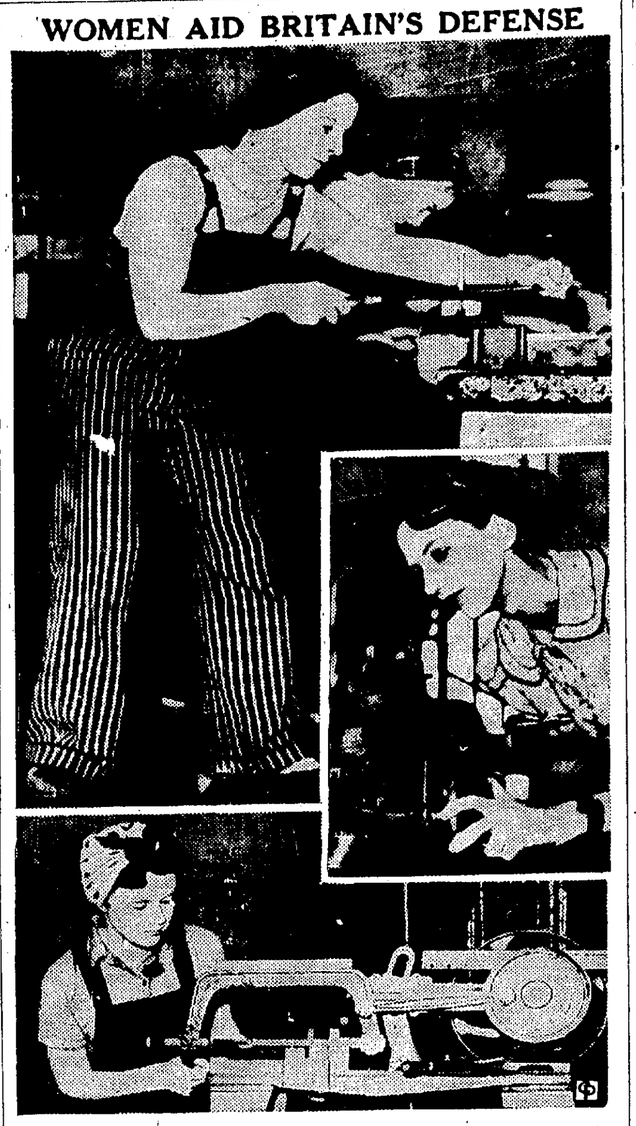
Roosevelt thinks himself the only man qualified for the job. And what infuriates Republicans is that he doesn't even pretend to feel unworthy of such praise.

Note to Europe: Don't worry about Mr. Hull's "temporary guardianship" of European possessions. In our language, temporary doesn't mean from now on.

WOMEN AID BRITAIN'S DEFENSE



Preparing for the day when they may have to replace men in the vital armaments plants of Great Britain, many English women are taking technical courses to learn how to handle tools and machinery. Here are pictures of three British women who are studying the manufacture and use of machine tools at Beaufoy Technical Institute in London. Upper photo shows Marjorie Clark, actress at the Criterion theater, who spends her time away from the stage at the institute. Miss Theodore Benson, center, author and daughter of Lord Charnwood, and Miss Bobbie Wood, lower, employe of a famous London store, also study at the trade school.

In Path of Italian Legions

With Britain and Italy engaged in what promises to be one of the decisive battles of the war, the struggle for the Suez Canal, England is placing heavy reliance on her highly efficient Bren guns, such as the one pictured above. Mounted on high-speed trucks, they are manned by troops especially trained for warfare on the desert wastes of Africa.

Defends Willkie Drive

C. B. Tuttle

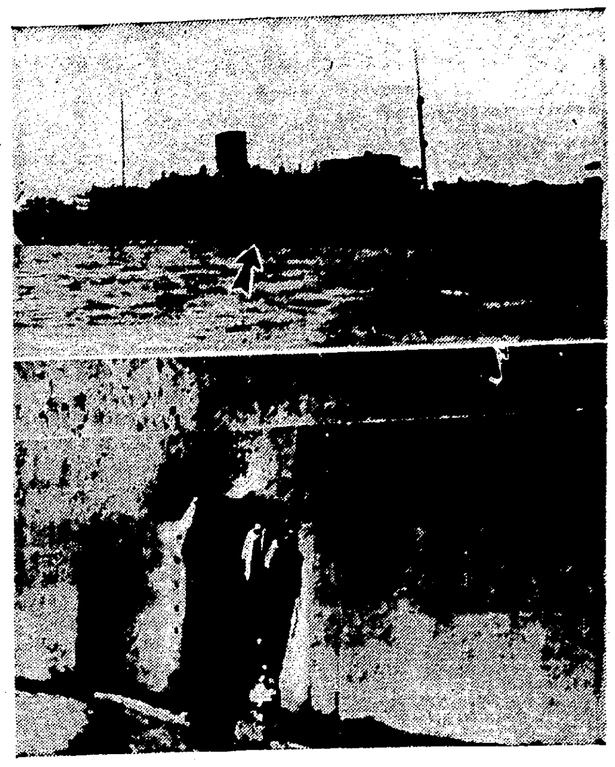
Defending his act in sending letters to some employes in which he asked support of the presidential candidacy of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee, C. B. Tuttle of Detroit, vice president and treasurer of the Kresge company, says he hopes publicity given the letters will "make a lot more people contribute to the Willkie campaign." Senator James Byrnes (D.) of South Carolina has declared before the senate that "corporation friends" of Willkie were coercing employes to contribute to the Republican campaign fund.

Aga Khan Stranded

The Aga Khan, Oriental potentate and British subject, finds himself stranded in Switzerland which is now surrounded by Nazi-dominated states. However, the Khan does not appear very much worried as he enjoys his morning tea and rolls and newspaper in Geneva.

We'll have a two-ocean navy by 1946—five years too late, or twenty years too soon.

After Battle With Nazi Raider



Damaged in a battle with an unidentified German sea raider off the Brazilian coast, the British converted-cruiser Alcantara limps into Rio de Janeiro harbor for repairs. Battle was a stand-off with the Nazi ship put to flight and the Alcantara suffering from shell fire (arrow and close-up below). She also lost a smokestack.
